Library Festival

On 13 March 2019, Rhetorque in collaboration with the Library, JDMC, organised an Intra-College Conventional Debate Competition as part of the JDMC Library Festival.

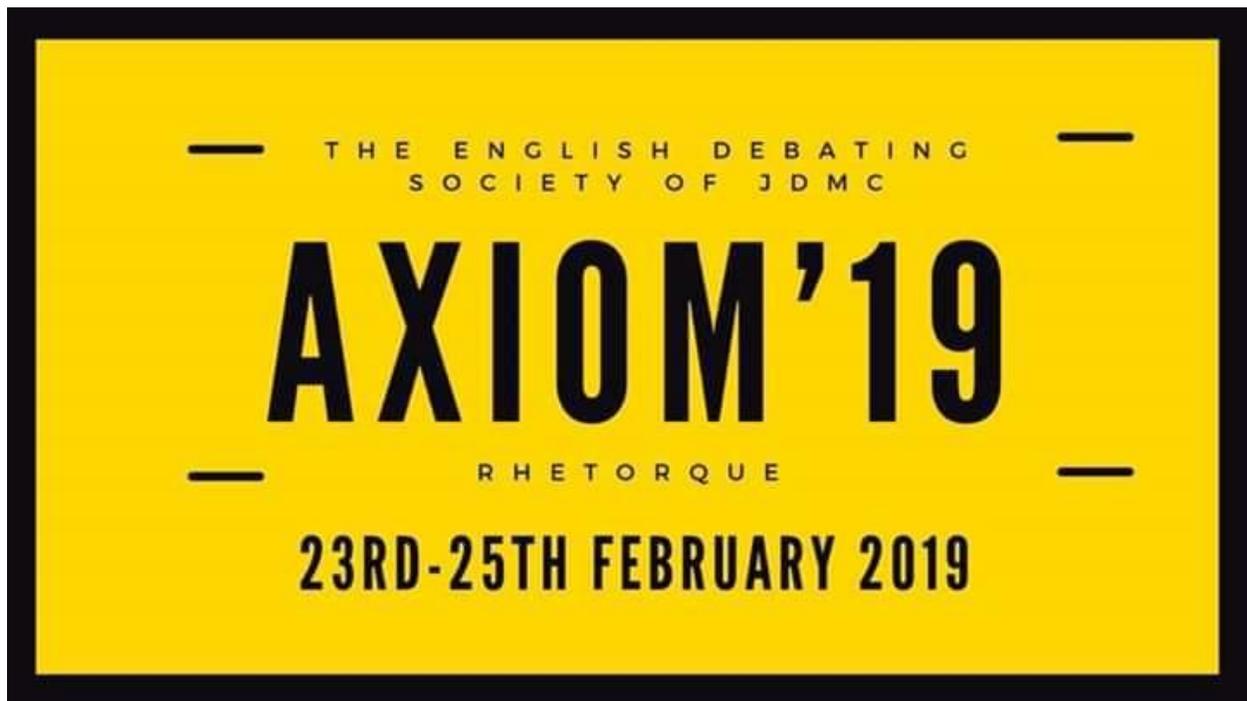

Participants were offered a choice between two motions which were ‘This house believes that libraries are as relevant as ever in the digital age’ and ‘This house regrets Chicklit’. Dr Jitender Gill and Ms Grace Suparna were the judges for this event. The first prize was won by Shruti Tiwari while the second and third prizes were won by Oishee Roy and Muskaan Grover respectively.

Axiom 2019

Axiom 2019 was held from 23 to 25 February 2019 and it was a great success witnessing participation from over 200 students. Axiom 2019, unlike its previous editions that followed a group knockout format, was a 3V3 Asian Parliamentary Debate. The 32 teams were judged by over 90 adjudicators who also competed for the best adjudicator prize. Pritika Datta and Gaurika Sood were the core adjudicators who provided interesting motions for debate. Team KMC (Rohan, Vrinda and Vijeeth) won the finals against Team CBS (Ajatshatru, Avantika and Jatin). Anusuiya from LSR was announced as the best adjudicator for the tournament while Savinay from Hindu won the second best adjudicator prize.

Jabberwocky 2019

Jabberwocky, the Turncoat Debate, was held in the Library on 9 January 2019, the second day of Symphony. It saw enthusiastic participation of students from various colleges. Turncoat debate allows speakers to speak both for and against a topic which was given on the spot and chosen through lots. Topics ranging from caste based politics, the Sabarimala issue, breast feeding in public to questions of free will and of tolerance were covered. There was also a special segment of discussion on Sikkim, under the initiative "Ek Bharat, Shreshtha Bharat" to discuss the integration of Sikkim and issues of contemporary importance. Ms Anupama Saini and Dr Jitender Gill judged the event and offered valuable insights to the speakers. The first prize was won by Oishin from Maitreyi College, the second by Simran from Hansraj College and the third by Vartika from Dyal Singh (Morning) College. The best interjector prize was bagged by Shreyasi from LSR College.

The poster features a dark blue background with a radial sunburst pattern. Debate and Quiz as part of Vigilance Awareness Week

As part of the Vigilance Awareness Week 2018, the society in association with the National Textile Corporation Limited, organised a Debate and Quiz on 31 October 2018. The Principal, Dr Swati Pal, read out the Integrity Pledge. The debate was based on the Vigilance motto of “Bhrashtachar Mitao, Naya Bharat Banao” i.e. “Eradicate Corruption - Build a New India”. In keeping with this theme students spoke for and against the topic: “Media Exposure is the Best Way to Fight Corruption”. The students debated the pros and cons of various forms of media intervention and their role in addressing corruption with interjections from students and the judges. The judges, Ms Rita Sinha and Dr Rupalekha Khullar, offered valuable advice and insights to the students. The first prize was awarded to Shruti Tiwari, the second to Muskaan Grover and the third prize was won by Ramyaa Grover. The best interjector prize was won by Nikita. The Quiz was designed on the pattern of the KBC TV show with a focus on Vigilance concerns and was very educational in the insights it offered about the functioning of the Central Vigilance Commission and related issues. The team from NTCL included Mr. N. K. Srivastava, Manager (Vigilance), Shri Brij Mohan, Mr Akshay Pandey, among other members, who helped organise the event.
