“Developing International Programs & Building Collaborations in Colleges”
May 6, 2022

The IQAC organized a seminar on “Developing International Programs & Building Collaborations in Colleges” on May 6, 2022 in a blended (online+offline) mode. The resource person of the webinar was Dr. Amrita Bajaj, Faculty and Coordinator, International Coordination and Development Programme, Shaheed Bhagat Singh College & Former Deputy Dean, Students’ welfare, University of Delhi.

The session began with a welcome address by Dr. Shilpa Chaudhary, IQAC Coordinator and introductory remarks by Prof. Swati Pal, Principal, JDMC. Dr. V. Rajyalakshmi, Webinar Coordinator introduced the speaker.

Dr. Bajaj apprised the audience about benefits of such collaborations, ranging from Indian students studying contemporary and globally recognised courses from the comforts of a home environment, widening the reach of such courses and world-class pedagogy at almost a quarter of the costs to getting students access to cutting-edge virtual learning tools. But it is the larger value addition to the education system that is more exciting. For one, it provides foreign institutions with a cost-effective method to study the new market and accordingly bring in modifications to their course curricula if required. Another huge gain is the enhancement in pedagogical skills for the Indian teaching community. The more comprehensive collaborations will not only see Indian faculty conducting such courses but also being trained and certified for it. Foreign institutions had flexibility woven into their curriculum long ago. Therefore, the subject combinations that they provide are in keeping with current career requirements. So, besides opening up a world of opportunities, this also helps set the base for what the NEP envisions. She also talked about the various types of collaborations and how to go for them.

The audience highly appreciated the webinar and expressed their thanks for organizing this extremely useful and relevant session. The webinar ended with a vote of thanks by the IQAC coordinator.
