The college has implemented effective strategies to manage solid and liquid waste on its campus. These strategies include source segregation, composting of biodegradable waste, and restricting the use of single-use plastics. Waste bins on campus are color-coded, with green bins for biodegradable waste and blue bins for non-biodegradable waste. On a typical day, the college collects 30 kg of solid waste, with 10 kg of non-biodegradable waste being segregated and collected by the municipality. The remaining 20 kg of waste is composted within the college premises using a composting machine (Alfa Therm Compost 24-35), which reduces the organic waste by roughly 90%. The resulting compost is used in the college nursery and garden. The college also has a fully operational drainage system and rain harvesting system. Wastewater is efficiently channelled through the appropriate drainage system. Currently, the college recycles 2000 liters per day of rejected water from RO purifiers, with plans to recycle an additional 4000 liters per day. This recycled water is primarily used for the washrooms. The college also plans to explore ways to redirect or recycle rainwater runoff for gardening purposes. Additionally, the college is seeking support to install a Sewage Treatment Plant (STP). The college also collaborates with ScrapUncle for paper recycling.

10. Diya Painting Workshop

On October 17, 2024, Avani, the Environment Club and NSS, Janki Devi Memorial College, successfully organised a "Diya Making Workshop." The event, conducted under the aegis of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), aimed to promote sustainability and creative expression by encouraging participants to celebrate Diwali with eco-friendly, handmade diyas.

The primary goal of the workshop was to encourage students to adopt eco-friendly practices during Diwali by creating their own handcrafted diyas using natural and sustainable materials.

The workshop began at 12:00 PM with an opening address by the Avani and NSS coordinators, who introduced the significance of celebrating Diwali in an environmentally conscious manner. Under their guidance, participants engaged in painting and decorating their diyas using a variety of artistic techniques. Student coordinators Ankita Arora and Meerangi Bhandari provided helpful tips on how to design unique and colorful diyas. The event saw enthusiastic participation from both students and faculty, who collaborated and experimented with different designs. The atmosphere was vibrant and festive, with students expressing their creativity and embracing the spirit of the festival. The Diya Making Workshop successfully fostered a sense of environmental responsibility while nurturing creativity among the participants. Each student left the workshop with beautifully decorated diyas that could be used for their upcoming Diwali celebrations. The workshop was a team effort, made possible by the combined dedication of Avani and NSS coordinators, as well as the enthusiastic involvement of the student coordinators. The Diya Making Workshop was a highly successful and enjoyable event that celebrated the values of creativity and environmental consciousness. By crafting their own diyas, participants demonstrated how small changes in their festive practices could contribute to a more sustainable future.

13. GOONJ Drive (1st August to 15th August 2024)

Floods are among the most devastating natural disasters, often resulting in widespread destruction, displacement of communities, and severe economic losses. The recent flooding in Delhi has had a profound impact, leaving thousands without homes, access to clean water, and essential supplies. In response to this crisis, Avani, in collaboration with Goonj, initiated a flood donation drive from August 1 to 15, 2024, to support relief efforts aimed at providing both immediate and long-term assistance to those affected. The drive was conducted over a period of 15 days, where students and teachers played a pivotal role in contributing a significant amount of clothes, shoes, essential supplies, and food items. This drive showcased Avani's compassion and concern for humanity as all its members came together to support those affected by the floods. The contributions made by both students and teachers have been invaluable in providing much-needed relief to the flood victims. On August 21, 2024, 55 cartons of essential items collected as a part of this drive were sent to the Goonj center.

14. Green Matters

Avani, the Environment Club, successfully organised an inter-college debate competition titled “Green Matters” on April 16, 2025, as a part of its annual festival, Ekatvam 2025. The theme for the debate was “A sustainable future is impossible without acknowledging the limits of growth and ensuring responsible, regulated development”. The event aimed to spark critical discussions around the balance between development and sustainability in today’s world.

Participants from various departments and colleges passionately presented arguments for and against the motion, showcasing a remarkable depth of research, conviction, and articulation. The debate saw a healthy clash of ideas. While some emphasized the need for growth to support innovation and progress, others made compelling arguments for the necessity of ecological boundaries, equitable resource distribution, and environmental accountability.

The event drew an enthusiastic turnout and was praised for fostering thoughtful discourse among students on pressing environmental concerns.
