BRIEF REPORT: International Conference on "Revisiting the Contours of Indian Civilisation: Culture, Heritage, Gandhi & Indigenous Epistemologies" (Day 2)

Date: 9 October 2026

Venue: Amaltas Hall, India Habitat Centre, New Delhi

Report:

Organised by: HERITAGE – The History Association, Gandhi Study Circle, and Heritage Club, Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, under the aegis of IQAC. The second day of the International Conference featured vibrant discussions, performance and student presentations.

The day commenced with Panel III: Heritage, Historical Consciousness and Cultural Continuities in India, chaired by Prof. Nadeem Rezavi (Formerly Department of History, Aligarh Muslim University).

The session began with a virtual presentation by Prof. Eugenia Vanina (Centre for Indian Studies, Institute of Oriental Studies, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow) on what constitutes a historical legacy, noting how Indian history was heavily impacted by British colonial rule, which promoted the misconception that India lacked historical consciousness. She discussed how concepts of secularism and unity evolved during the freedom struggle, while warning against the manipulation of history to align with propaganda and rewrite it due to anti-national forces in power. She also highlighted contemporary cultural contradictions, such as people harboring hatred toward Mughal history while enjoying the very delicacies brought by them to India, alongside the perpetuation of anti-national feelings through historically inaccurate commercial movies in Indian cinema.

The panel continued with Ms. Manjari Chaturvedi (Classical Indian Kathak Dancer and Cultural Academic, Delhi), who spoke on the impact and history of Tawaif performers and how Bollywood gradually changed their representation. Highlighting how history has predominantly been written by men under the heavy influence of patriarchy, she noted how women in music are often overlooked while women in dance are more frequently celebrated, and how women were misrepresented because "it sells more." She presented various Tawaif songs that were morphed and exploited excessively by Bollywood. She emphasized that Tawaifs were historically among the highest taxpayers and crucial societal figures in terms of reputation, wealth, and education, whose legacies were unfairly reduced to "skimpy little outfits and male-oriented lyrics."

Additionally, Dr. Mukesh Kumar (SNSF Senior Fellow & Lecturer, University of Zurich) presented online on the shifting landscape of education, highlighting the gradual disappearance of Mughal history from textbooks and expressing concern over education increasingly being controlled by authorities rather than functioning as an independent institution.

Following the paper presentations, an interactive question-and-answer session took place, during which students and faculty members actively posed questions to the speakers.

Panel IV featured a captivating Dastangoi Lecture cum Demonstration performed by Ms. Poonam Girdhani and Ms. Amina Sayeda. The session explored the etymology and history, focusing on Dastan-e-Amir Hamza and the significance of print culture in preserving these traditions. They detailed classic elements of traditional dastans such as magicians, invisible cloaks, special whistles audible only to aiyaars, and works like Tilism-e-Hoshrub through engaging ravayati dastan talk.

Panel V: Students' Panel, chaired by Dr. Tara Sheemar and moderated by Dr. Nirmal Kumar (Department of History, Janki Devi Memorial College). Student researchers presented papers examining critical socio-cultural and historical themes:

The session featured insightful paper presentations by undergraduate student researchers. Ms. Ankita presented on cinema and social issues in post-independence India, examining representations of inequality and resistance from 1950 to 1977. Ms. Arushi Thakur explored the role of oral history and folklore, focusing on Santhal and Munda traditions and the subaltern perspective in deconstructing Eurocentric narratives. Ms. Sneha Maity discussed the Decolonisation of Coffee by reimagining coffee culture in India. Ms.

Vedanshi Varshney and Ms. Renu bridged archaeological evidence and material heritage through an understanding of Atranjikhhera. Ms. Tamanna and Ms. Jahnavee Singh addressed the reclamation of the Indus by rereading the Indus Valley Civilization through Indian historiography versus colonial and European frameworks. Finally, Ms. Vishakha spoke on decolonizing knowledge and challenging Eurocentric narratives through Indian intellectual history.

Following the presentations, an engaging question-and-answer session was conducted, where both the moderator and the chair provided valuable remarks, feedback, and constructive suggestions to all the student presenters.

Key Highlights of the Event:

- Critique of Colonial Historiography & Modern Media: In-depth scholarly dissection of how historical legacies, textbook narratives, and cinematic representations shape public memory and national identity.
- Redefining Social and Gender Histories: Critical examination of marginalized socio-cultural groups and women's historic contributions against patriarchal distortions.
- Living Performance Arts: Immersive lecture-cum-demonstrations that revived traditional oral storytelling techniques.

The second day successfully merged high-level academic discourse on historical consciousness with living cultural traditions and student-driven research.

Day 2 of the international conference was an intellectually stimulating, culturally enriching, and deeply engaging academic program that brought the two-day conference to a successful close.

RIEF REPORT: Inaugural Session & Panel I

Date: 8 October 2026

Time: 9:30 AM – 2:00 PM

Venue: Amaltas Hall, Below Stein Auditorium, India Habitat Centre, Lodhi Road, New Delhi

Report:

The History Association – HERITAGE, Gandhi Study Circle, and the Heritage Club of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, under the aegis of IQAC, organized the Inaugural Session and Panel I of the International Conference on "Revisiting the Contours of Indian Civilisation: Culture, Heritage, Gandhi & Indigenous Epistemologies" on 8 October 2026 at the India Habitat Centre.

Inaugural Session (9:30 AM – 11:30 AM)

The conference opened with a Welcome Address by the Conference Convener, followed by an address by Principal Prof. Swati Pal, who emphasized the importance of revisiting civilisational discourses through critical and inclusive lenses. Ms. Anuradha Krishna (Chairperson, Governing Body, JDMC) and Prof. Prabhu Mohapatra delivered addresses as Guests of Honour, highlighting the value of academic initiatives that reconnect students with indigenous methodologies. Prof. Amar Farooqui delivered the Keynote Address, offering profound insights into historical transitions and civilisational frameworks in Indian history. A significant highlight of the inaugural segment was the official book release of Hindus and their Religion in Medieval India: Study Based on the Works of Abū'l Fazl, 'Mobad' and Dārā Shukoh, authored by Prof. Manisha Mishra Agnihotri and published by Primus Books (2026).

Panel I:

Voices Beyond Texts: Oral-Visual Cultures and Epistemic Practices

Titled "Voices Beyond Texts: Oral-Visual Cultures and Epistemic Practices,".

The session was chaired by Prof. Najaf Haider, Centre for Historical Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi.

Prof. Seema Bawa, Department of History, University of Delhi, presented "Beyond the Shilpashastras." She discussed various Shastras and Puranas, particularly the Shilpa Shastra and Vishnudharmottara Purana, and examined how their traditions and practices extended beyond their regions. She explained the making of images and the lakshanas associated with Devi images, along with the role of the shilpi. She also referred to the Nandi inscription and Shakti Devi inscription to understand temple practices and the ways in which inscriptions and artistic sources can help reconstruct history.

Prof. Tanuja Kothiyal, Ambedkar University, Delhi, presented "Recovering Oral Traditions: Methodological Challenges for Historians." She discussed the nature of oral traditions and the assumptions associated with them. Using Kabir's verses as an example, she raised questions regarding authenticity in oral traditions. She also discussed translation, power and ethics, highlighting the challenges involved in using oral traditions as historical sources and teaching tools. She emphasised that sources are created and shaped through processes of transmission and interpretation.

Prof. Parul Pandya Dhar, Department of History, University of Delhi, presented “Reading Images, Seeing History: Art in Ancient India.” Her presentation focused on the Bharhut Stupa and explored how symbols and visual representations can be used to understand history. She discussed the visual history of the Buddha and examined what the monument reveals through its artistic and symbolic representations. She highlighted the significance of visual sources and monuments in understanding the past beyond written texts.

Dr. Arun Kumar, Department of History, University of Nottingham, United Kingdom (Online), presented “Peasant Readers & Listeners in Colonial North India.” His presentation focused on colonial North India, particularly on peasant communities and their engagement with reading and listening practices. He highlighted the importance of looking beyond written texts to understand the circulation of historical knowledge and ideas among people in colonial North India.

Panel II:

Rediscovering Gandhi in India: Nation, Memory and Identity.

The panel was chaired by Prof. Prabhu Mohapatra (Formerly Department of History, University of Delhi). The session commenced with insightful paper presentations by distinguished scholars exploring Gandhian philosophy, sociolinguistic frameworks, and political theory.

Prof. Salil Misra (BML Munjal University, Gurgaon) presented on “Gandhi and the Language Question”, examining Gandhi's perspectives on language, communication, and linguistic identity within the national framework.

Following this, Dr. Manindra Nath

Thakur (Centre for Political Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Delhi) spoke on “Gandhi's Sabhyata Bodhvinyas: Exploring Indian Political Theory of Nation and Identity”, offering a deep critique of modern civilisation through Gandhian thought.

The final presentation was delivered by Dr. Saurav Kumar Rai (Research Officer, Gandhi Smriti and Darshan Samiti, Delhi) on “Rethinking Democracy through Gandhi”, highlighting alternative democratic futures grounded in Gandhian ideals. The presentations were followed by an engaging interactive discussion session where faculty members and students actively participated by posing questions and sharing observations with the panelists.

Open Floor for Questions

The session was followed by an open floor for questions, where the audience engaged with the speakers through a question-and-answer session. The speakers responded to the questions and further elaborated on the themes and ideas discussed during their respective presentations. The interactive discussion provided an opportunity for the audience to clarify their understanding and engage more closely with the topics addressed during the panel.

Key Highlights:

- Official Opening & Book Launch: Formal inauguration with a welcome address, inspirational remarks by Principal Prof. Swati Pal on civilisational discourses, and the release of Prof. Manisha Mishra Agnihotri's book Hindus and their Religion in Medieval India.

- Distinguished Addresses & Keynote: Insights from Guests of Honour Ms. Anuradha Krishna and Prof. Prabhu Mohapatra, followed by Prof. Amar Farooqui's keynote on historical transitions, urban development, and anti-colonial struggles.
- Gandhian & Civilisational Discourses: In-depth panel discussions covering Swaraj, Gandhian Sabhyata, caste, untouchability, indigenous knowledge systems, and the four pillars of Swaraj.
- Exploration of Non-Textual Epistemologies: Panel I investigations into oral and visual histories, utilizing Shastras, Puranas, inscriptions, temple art, the Bharhut Stupa, and the visual history of the Buddha.
- Social History & Oral Traditions: Methodological challenges in recovering oral traditions, source critique, and examining peasant reading and listening practices in colonial North India.
- Interactive Engagement: Active floor participation through open question-and-answer sessions connecting the audience and students with the paneli

The inaugural session, Panel I and

Panel II provided a diverse academic engagement with the themes of Indian civilisation, culture, heritage, Gandhi and indigenous epistemologies. The discussions highlighted the importance of engaging with oral traditions, visual representations, inscriptions, artistic sources, and practices of reading and listening to develop a broader understanding of the past.

Preview of Day 2

The conference will continue on 9 October 2026 with academic discussions, and Student's panel focusing on diverse themes related to Indian history.

BRIEF REPORT: Trip to the National Museum

Date: 29 September 2026

Venue: National Museum, New Delhi

Report:

The History Association – HERITAGE of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, under the aegis of IQAC, organised a Trip to the National Museum, New Delhi, on 29 September 2026. The visit was attended by students of the first and second years of the History Department and aimed to provide students with an opportunity to engage with historical artefacts and material sources beyond the classroom.

Upon reaching the National Museum, the students were introduced to a museum guide who accompanied them throughout the visit. The guide explained the different galleries and collections and provided historical context about the artefacts, helping students understand their significance and relevance to the study of Indian history.

The visit included an exploration of artefacts associated with the Harappan Civilisation. Students observed the famous bronze Dancing Girl figurine along with terracotta animal toys and other artefacts. The collection provided an opportunity to connect classroom learning about the Indus Valley Civilisation with archaeological and material remains.

The students then explored the sculpture collections, which included stone, bronze and terracotta sculptures belonging to different historical periods, including the Maurya, Shunga, Satavahana, Kushana and Gupta periods. The collection also included representations of the river goddesses Ganga and Yamuna, allowing students to observe the development of sculptural traditions across different periods of Indian history.

The visit further included the Buddhist Art collection, where students viewed sacred bone relics associated with the Buddha and Gandhara-style Buddha sculptures. The guide explained their historical and religious significance, providing students with insights into the development of Buddhist art and its associated traditions.

Another important section explored by the students was the Miniature Paintings collection. Students viewed miniature paintings representing different regional and artistic traditions. The collection offered an insight into the development of painting traditions in India and the diverse styles and themes associated with different regions and periods.

The students also visited the Decorative Arts and Jewellery collections, which included traditional textiles, wood carvings, ivory works and objects from the Alamkara jewellery collection. These exhibits highlighted the craftsmanship, artistic traditions and material culture associated with different periods of Indian history.

The Arms and Armour collection was another significant part of the visit. Students observed historical weapons, armour and other objects associated with warfare. The collection provided an opportunity to understand aspects of military practices, craftsmanship and material culture across different historical periods.

Key highlights of the field trip included:

Harappan Civilisation: Students explored significant archaeological artefacts, including the bronze Dancing Girl figurine and terracotta animal toys.

Sculpture Collections: The visit covered sculptures from the Maurya, Shunga, Satavahana, Kushana and Gupta periods, including representations of Ganga and Yamuna.

Decorative Arts and Jewellery: The collection introduced students to traditional textiles, wood carvings, ivory works and Alamkara jewellery, showcasing India's artistic and craft traditions.

Arms and Armour: Students observed historical weapons and armour and gained insights into warfare and material culture across different periods.

Experiential Learning: The visit enabled students to connect classroom learning with historical artefacts and material sources through direct observation and guided explanation.

The field trip provided students with an opportunity to engage with history through material and visual sources and to connect their classroom learning with tangible historical evidence. The guided exploration of the museum's diverse collections helped students develop a deeper understanding of different periods, artistic traditions and aspects of India's cultural heritage.

The Field Trip to the National Museum proved to be an informative and enriching academic experience, encouraging experiential learning and allowing students to engage directly with the historical and cultural collections preserved in the museum.

BRIEF REPORT: Online Workshop on Research Methodology

Date: 26 September 2026

Platform: Google Meet

Report:

The History Association – HERITAGE of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, under the aegis of IQAC, organised an Online Workshop on Research Methodology on 26 September 2026 through Google Meet. The workshop featured Dr. Akanksha Kumar and Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh, Assistant Professors, Department of History, Janki Devi Memorial College, as the resource persons.

The session was hosted by Riya Shukla, who extended a warm welcome to both the resource persons, faculty members and students. She introduced the resource persons and set the context for the academic session before inviting Dr. Akanksha Kumar to begin the first presentation.

Dr. Akanksha Kumar discussed several foundational aspects of history and historical inquiry. Her presentation covered the meaning and nature of history, how historians work, the relationship of history with other social sciences, the scope of history, interpretations and meanings, and the distinction between fact and inference. This was followed by an interactive question-and-answer session in which students raised queries related to the themes discussed. Dr. Akanksha Kumar addressed the questions and further elaborated on the concepts.

The second presentation was delivered by Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh, who focused on the sources of historical research. He discussed different categories of sources, including archaeological, epigraphic and oral sources, and their relevance to the study of history. The presentation was followed by another interactive question-and-answer session, where students raised questions related to historical sources and their use in research. Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh addressed the queries and provided further insights into the subject.

Key highlights of the workshop included:

- Foundations of History: Dr. Akanksha Kumar explored the meaning, nature and scope of history, the work of historians and its relationship with other social sciences.
- Historical Interpretation: The presentation touched upon interpretations and meanings in history, including the distinction between fact and inference.
- Sources of Historical Research: Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh introduced students to important categories of historical sources, including archaeological, epigraphic and oral sources.

Interactive Engagement: Both presentations were followed by question-and-answer sessions, allowing students to engage directly with the resource persons and clarify their understanding of the topics.

The workshop provided students with an opportunity to engage with the fundamentals of historical inquiry and research methodology. The presentations and interactive discussions offered valuable academic insights into both the interpretation of history and the sources through which the past is studied.

The Online Workshop on Research Methodology proved to be an informative and engaging academic session, fostering meaningful interaction between the resource persons, faculty members and students and encouraging a deeper engagement with the study and practice of history.

BRIEF REPORT: Fresher's Orientation '26

Date: 24 September 2026
Venue: Auditorium, Janki Devi Memorial College

Report:
The History Association – HERITAGE of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, under the aegis of IQAC, organised Freshers’ Orientation ’26 on 24 September 2026. The event was organised to warmly welcome the new students to the History Department and provide them with an engaging beginning to their college journey.

The programme began with a warm welcome to the freshers, followed by an address by Prof. Swati Pal, Principal, Janki Devi Memorial College. The cultural segment commenced with a singing performance, followed by enthusiastic performances by the freshers. The performances continued with participation from students of the First Year, Second Year and Third Year, creating an atmosphere of enthusiasm and interaction among different batches.

A major highlight of the event was the Ramp Walk, in which the freshers showcased their confidence, personality and style. Teachers and Union members also joined the ramp, adding to the excitement of the segment.

Key highlights of the event included:

Cultural Performances: Students from the First, Second and Third Years presented performances, adding to the celebratory spirit of the event.

Ramp Walk: Freshers participated in the Ramp Walk as part of the Miss Freshers competition, with teachers and Union members also joining the segment.

Miss Freshers Competition: The competition progressed through different rounds, including the selection of the Top 10 and Top 5 contestants.

Titles: Shalu Baghel was awarded Miss Well-Dressed, Lipsha Subhadarshini was awarded Miss Confident, and Aneka Jala was crowned Miss Freshers 2026.

The event provided the freshers with an opportunity to interact with their teachers and seniors through performances and various activities. It created a warm and lively atmosphere and marked a memorable beginning to their journey in the History Department.

The Freshers’ Orientation ’26 proved to be an engaging and memorable event, bringing together students across different years and fostering interaction between freshers, seniors and faculty members.

BRIEF REPORT: Career Counselling and Alumna Interaction Session

Date: 16 September 2026

Venue: Seminar Hall

Report-

Heritage – The History Association of Janki Devi Memorial College, under the aegis of IQAC, successfully organised a Career Counselling Session and Alumna Interaction Session on 16 September 2026 in the Seminar Room of the college. The sessions were organised with the objective of providing students with meaningful academic and career-oriented guidance, particularly regarding higher education, competitive examinations and future career opportunities.

The session began with a formal welcome of both speakers, Md. Faisal Hussain and Taniya, to the college. Their presence was acknowledged by the faculty members and students.

The Career Counselling Session was conducted by Md. Faisal Hussain, Ex-Faculty at Janki Devi Memorial College and Indraprastha College for Women, University of Delhi, and Mentor and Educator for Civil Services Examination. He interacted with students and addressed their queries, particularly those related to the Civil Services Examination and other competitive examinations.

The session was followed by an Alumna Interaction Session with Taniya, an alumna of Janki Devi Memorial College who successfully cleared the UPSC Civil Services Examination 2025–26. Her interaction provided students with an opportunity to understand the preparation journey from the perspective of a former student of the college

The sessions were highly interactive, with students asking numerous questions related to Civil Services and other competitive examinations. Both the resource person and the alumna responded to the students' queries and helped clarify their doubts regarding preparation strategies, career choices and the challenges associated with competitive examinations.

Key insights from the sessions included:

How to Begin Preparation: Students received guidance on how to begin their preparation for competitive examinations and where to start their journey in a systematic manner. Choosing the Right Path: The speakers addressed students' concerns regarding how to identify the right examination and preparation pathway according to their interests, goals and capabilities.

Sources to Study: Students asked about appropriate and reliable sources for preparation, particularly for the Civil Services Examination, and received guidance on selecting relevant study material.

Time Management: The importance of effective time management was discussed, with emphasis on balancing college academics with preparation for competitive examinations.

Answer Writing: Students were guided on the significance of developing answer-writing skills and practising structured and effective responses as part of examination preparation.

Clearing Doubts and Queries: The interactive session provided students with an opportunity to ask questions related to Civil Services and other competitive examinations, with their doubts being addressed by both the mentor and the alumna.

Learning from Experience: Taniya's experience as a JDMC alumna who cleared the UPSC Civil Services Examination provided students with a practical perspective on the preparation journey and the challenges involved.

The sessions provided students with a valuable opportunity to interact directly with an experienced mentor and an alumna who had successfully cleared the Civil Services Examination. The discussions helped students gain greater clarity regarding their career aspirations and the steps required to work towards them.

The Career Counselling and Alumna Interaction Sessions proved to be an academically enriching initiative, combining professional guidance with first-hand experience. The event successfully created an open platform where students could raise their concerns, seek guidance and gain a clearer understanding of career planning and preparation for competitive examinations, particularly the Civil Services Examination.

BRIEF REPORT: 11th Dr. Vijay Nath Memorial Lecture

Date: 1 September 2026

Venue: Seminar Room, Janki Devi Memorial College

Report:

The Heritage – The History Association of Janki Devi Memorial College, under the aegis of IQAC, successfully organized the 11th Dr. Vijay Nath Memorial Lecture on 1 September 2026 in the Seminar Room of the college. The theme of this year’s lecture was “Museums and Representation of Ancient Indian Heritage”, delivered by Prof. Manvi Seth, Pro-Vice Chancellor, Indian Institute of Heritage and Professor and Head, Department of Museology, Indian Institute of Heritage.

The lecture was organized as a part of the Association’s continued endeavour to promote historical awareness, academic discussion and critical engagement with India’s rich cultural heritage. The event also served as a meaningful tribute to the scholarly legacy of Dr. Vijay Nath.

The session commenced with the formal welcome of the distinguished resource person and the gathering of faculty members and students. Prof. Manvi Seth was introduced to the audience and her extensive academic expertise in the field of museology and heritage studies was acknowledged.

Prof. Manvi Seth delivered an insightful and engaging lecture, exploring the complex relationship between museums, heritage and historical representation. She encouraged the audience to critically examine the ways in which ancient Indian heritage is selected, interpreted, displayed and communicated within museum spaces.

Key insights from the lecture included:

- Museums as spaces of interpretation: Prof. Seth explored how museums are not simply repositories of ancient objects but spaces where historical narratives are constructed and communicated to the public.
- Representation of ancient heritage: She discussed how the display of artefacts influences the ways in which visitors understand ancient Indian society, culture, art and history.
- From object to narrative: She highlighted the importance of providing historical, cultural and social context to artefacts rather than presenting them merely as isolated objects.

- Multiple perspectives on heritage: The lecture encouraged students to recognize that the interpretation of heritage can involve diverse perspectives and that museum narratives need to engage critically with these different viewpoints.
- Museums and public understanding of history: Prof. Seth emphasized the significant role museums play in making historical knowledge accessible and meaningful beyond academic spaces.
- Preservation and interpretation: She explored the interconnected responsibilities of conserving tangible heritage while also developing appropriate ways of interpreting and presenting it for contemporary audiences.
- Changing approaches to museology: The lecture reflected upon the evolving nature of museums and the need for more engaging, inclusive and meaningful approaches to heritage interpretation.
- Ancient heritage in the contemporary world: Prof. Seth discussed the continuing relevance of ancient Indian heritage and the responsibility of museums to create meaningful connections between the past and present.

The lecture provided students with an opportunity to look beyond conventional understandings of museums and appreciate them as dynamic institutions that shape public memory and historical consciousness. Prof. Seth's insights also encouraged students to think critically about who represents heritage, how it is represented, and how such representations influence our understanding of the past.

The lecture was followed by an interactive discussion, during which students and faculty engaged with the resource person on various aspects of museums, heritage preservation, historical representation and museology. The discussion provided an enriching academic platform for students to clarify their perspectives and engage directly with an expert in the field.

The 11th Dr. Vijay Nath Memorial Lecture proved to be an academically enriching experience, providing students with valuable insights into museology and the representation of ancient Indian heritage. The session successfully combined historical inquiry with contemporary questions of preservation, interpretation and public engagement, inspiring students to develop a more critical and nuanced understanding of museums and heritage.

BRIEF REPORT: Movie Screening on Partition Horrors Remembrance Day

Date: 14 August 2026

Venue: Seminar Room, Janki Devi Memorial College

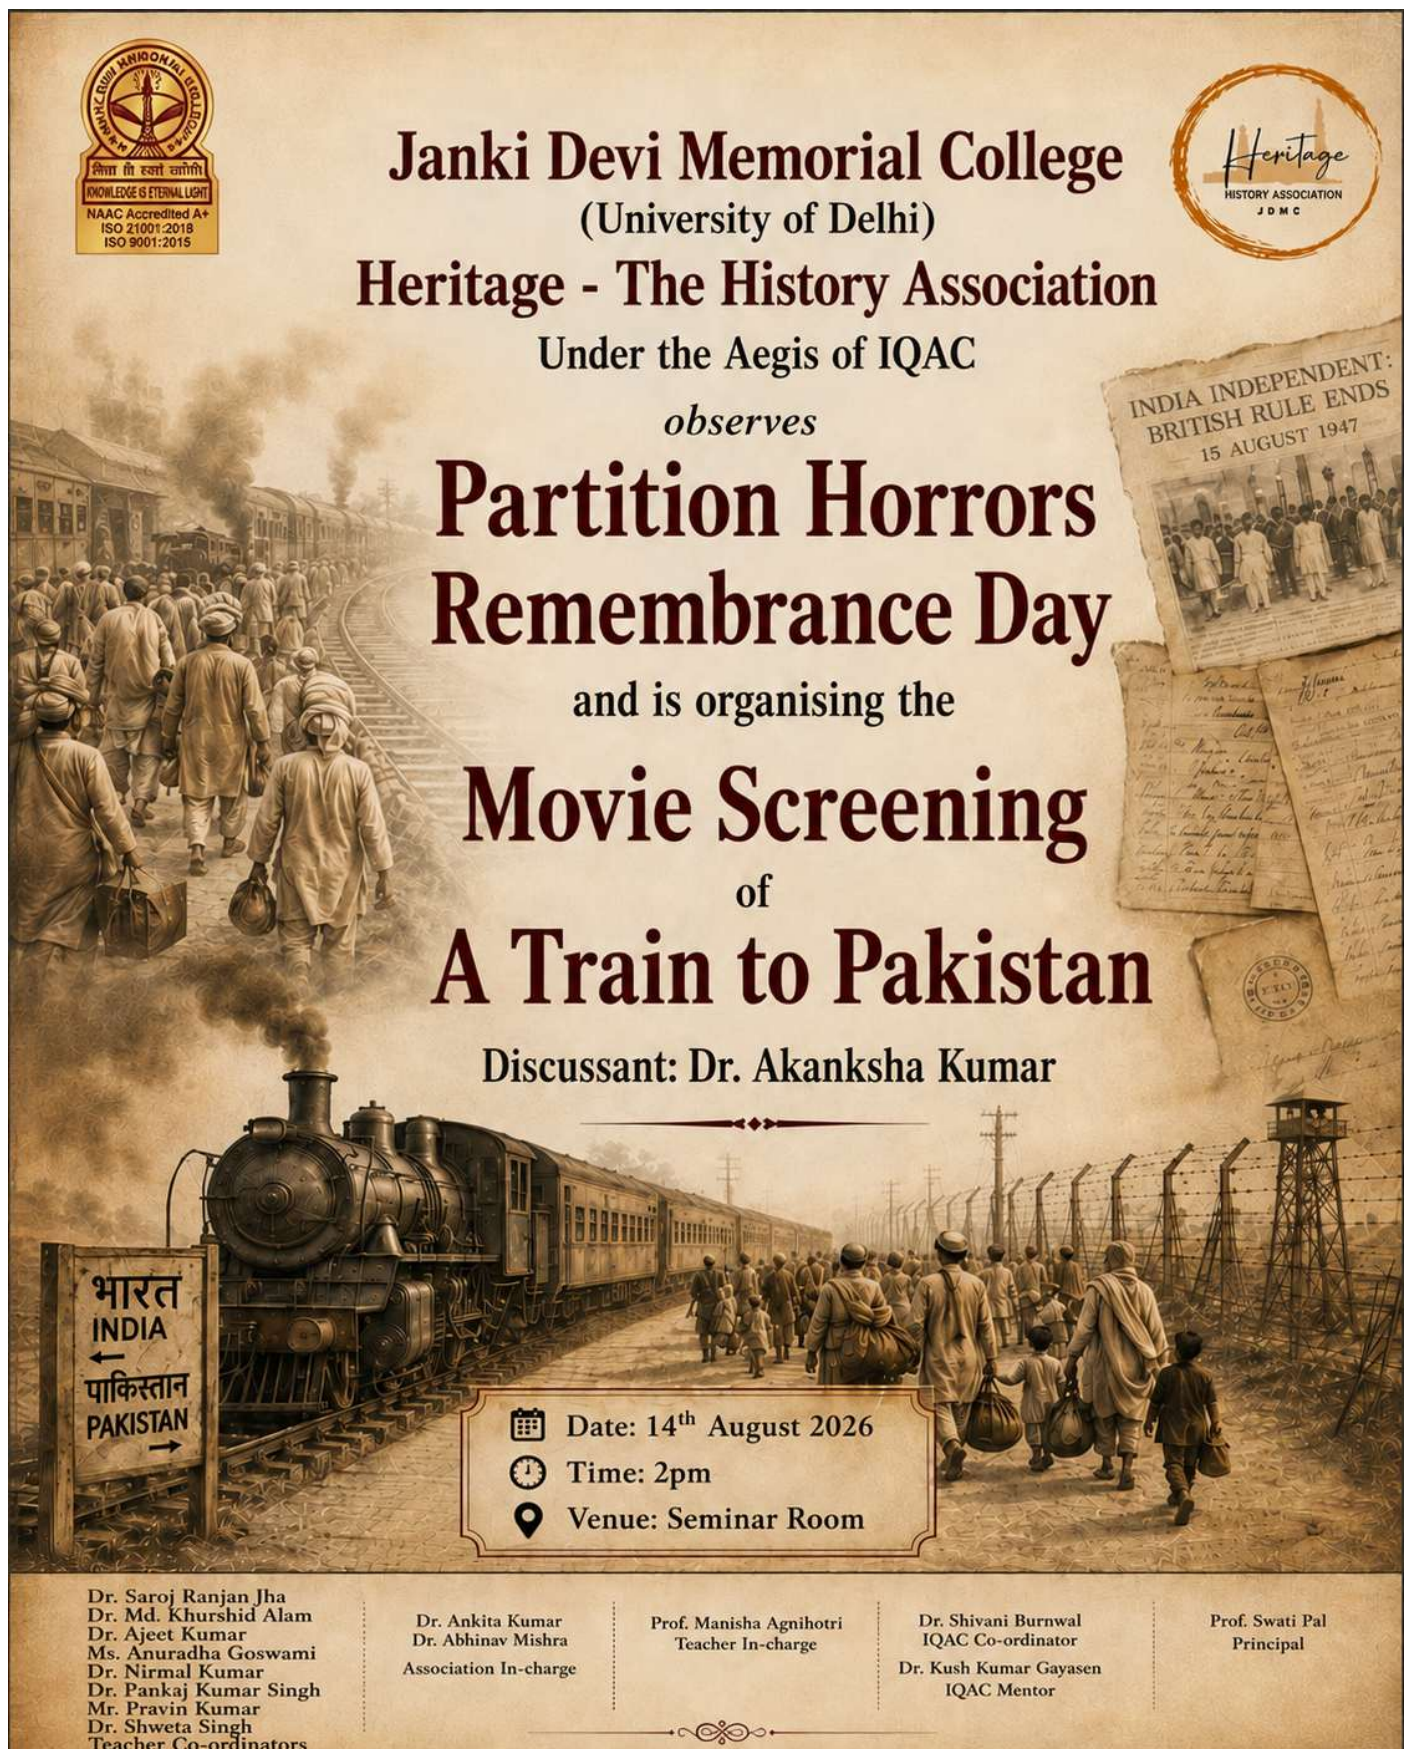

Report:

Heritage – The History Association organised a screening of A Train to Pakistan on 14 August 2026 to commemorate Partition Horrors Remembrance Day. The programme aimed to sensitise students to the human tragedy of the Partition of India in 1947 and encourage reflection on its enduring social, political, and emotional consequences.

Based on Khushwant Singh’s celebrated novel, A Train to Pakistan portrays the devastating impact of Partition on ordinary people, highlighting the violence, displacement, fear, and breakdown of communal relationships that accompanied the division of the subcontinent. Through its narrative, the film offers insights into the experiences of individuals and communities caught amid the turmoil, demonstrating how political decisions profoundly affected everyday lives.

Dr. Akanksha Kumar from the Department of History, Janki Devi Memorial College (JDMC), served as the discussant. She contextualised the film within the historical circumstances of Partition and encouraged students to critically examine its representation of communal violence, human suffering, and the complexities of collective memory. The discussion also highlighted the importance of understanding Partition beyond political negotiations, foregrounding the experiences of refugees and survivors.

The screening provided students with an opportunity to engage with history through cinema and historical interpretation. The programme fostered empathy, historical awareness, and reflection on the significance of communal harmony, peace, and reconciliation.

BRIEF REPORT: Pedagogy Workshop for Faculty

Date: 12 August 2026

Venue: Committee Room, Janki Devi Memorial College

Report:

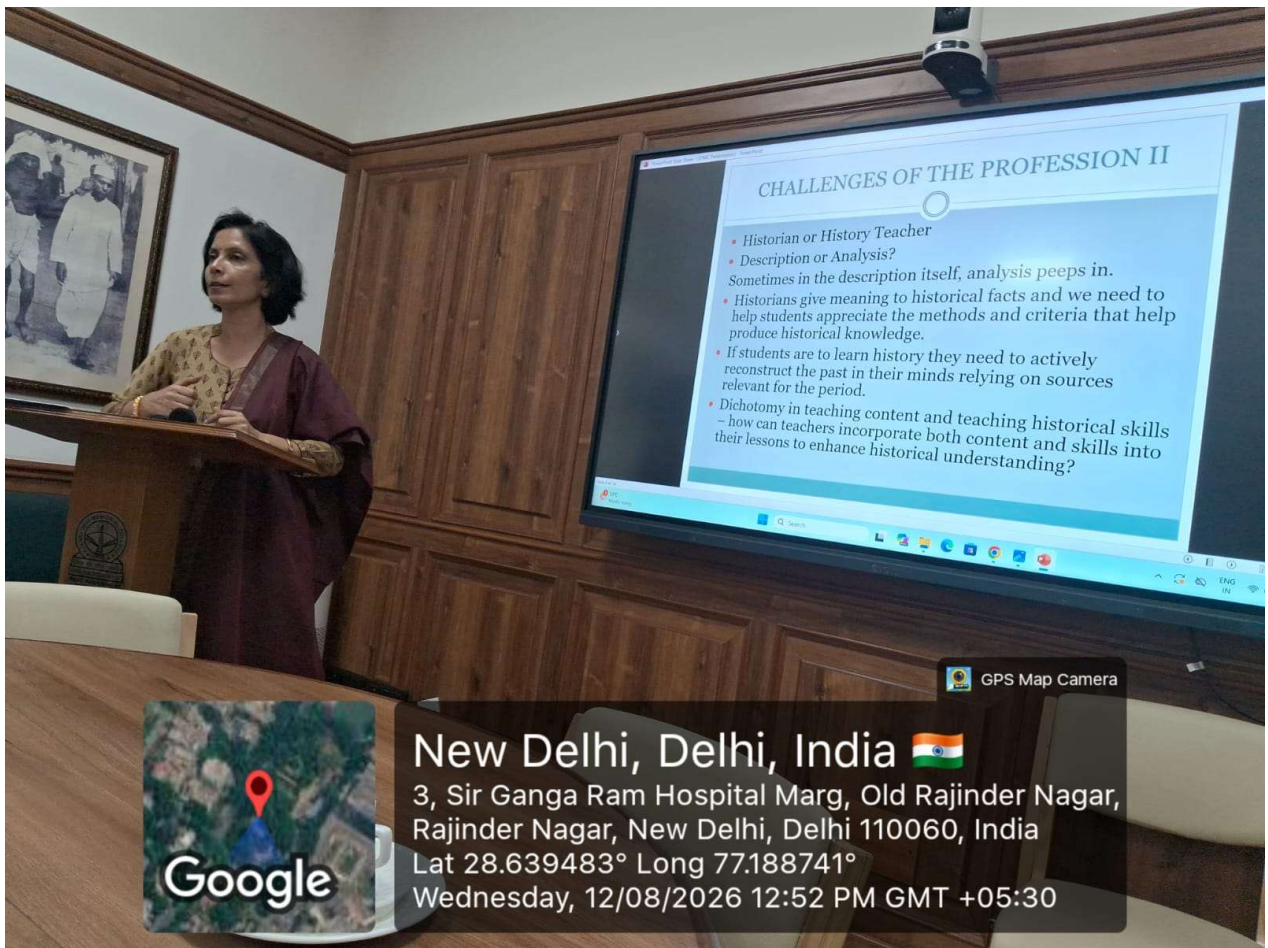

Heritage – The History Association organised a Pedagogy Workshop for Faculty on 12 August 2026 to enhance teaching practices and encourage the exchange of innovative pedagogical approaches in the discipline of History. The workshop provided a platform for faculty members to engage with diverse teaching methodologies and explore effective ways of making historical learning more interactive, analytical, and engaging.

The workshop featured three distinguished resource persons who shared their expertise in different areas of history. Prof. Archana Ojha from Kamala Nehru College delivered a session on American History, discussing approaches to teaching historical developments and encouraging critical engagement with historical themes. Dr. Sneha Jha from Miranda House conducted a session on Medieval Indian History, highlighting pedagogical perspectives for understanding the political, social, and cultural dimensions of the period. Dr. Deeksha Bhardwaj from Gargi College addressed Ancient Indian History, sharing insights into effective methods of presenting ancient historical developments and facilitating students' engagement with historical sources and interpretations.

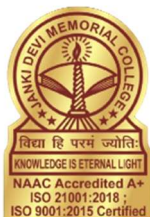

The sessions encouraged faculty members to reflect on their classroom practices and consider innovative strategies for improving student participation and comprehension. The workshop also facilitated academic interaction and the exchange of experiences among educators from different institutions. The programme proved to be a valuable academic initiative, strengthening pedagogical understanding and promoting the adoption of effective teaching practices in history education.

BRIEF REPORT: Orientation Session for 1st Year students

Date: 30 July 2026

Venue: Room 12, Janki Devi Memorial College

Report:

Heritage – The History Association organised an Orientation Session for first-year History Honours students on 30 July 2026 to familiarise them with the academic framework, departmental activities, and expectations of undergraduate study. The session aimed to facilitate students' transition to college life and provide them with essential information about the course structure and academic requirements.

The programme began with an introduction to the faculty members of the Department of History, enabling students to familiarise themselves with their teachers and their academic roles. The faculty members explained the course structure under the National Education Policy (NEP), providing an overview of the different components of the undergraduate curriculum, including Core papers, Generic Electives (GE), Skill Enhancement Courses (SEC), Value Addition Courses (VAC), and Ability Enhancement Courses (AEC).

The session also clarified the assessment and evaluation system, with particular emphasis on the distribution of marks for Internal Assessment (IA) and Continuous Assessment (CA) and attendance rules. Students were guided regarding the importance of regular participation, academic engagement, and fulfilling the prescribed assessment requirements.

Additionally, the students were introduced to Heritage – The History Association and its activities, including academic programmes, discussions, workshops, and other initiatives designed to promote historical awareness and intellectual engagement. The orientation proved beneficial in addressing students' initial queries and helping them understand the academic and extracurricular opportunities available in the department, thereby laying a strong foundation for their undergraduate journey.

Brief Report

Heritage – The History Association organised an Online NEP Orientation Session for optional papers offered in the third, fifth, and seventh semesters on 9 June 2026 at 7:00 p.m. The session was conducted online through Google Meet to familiarise students with the academic framework and course options under the National Education Policy (NEP).

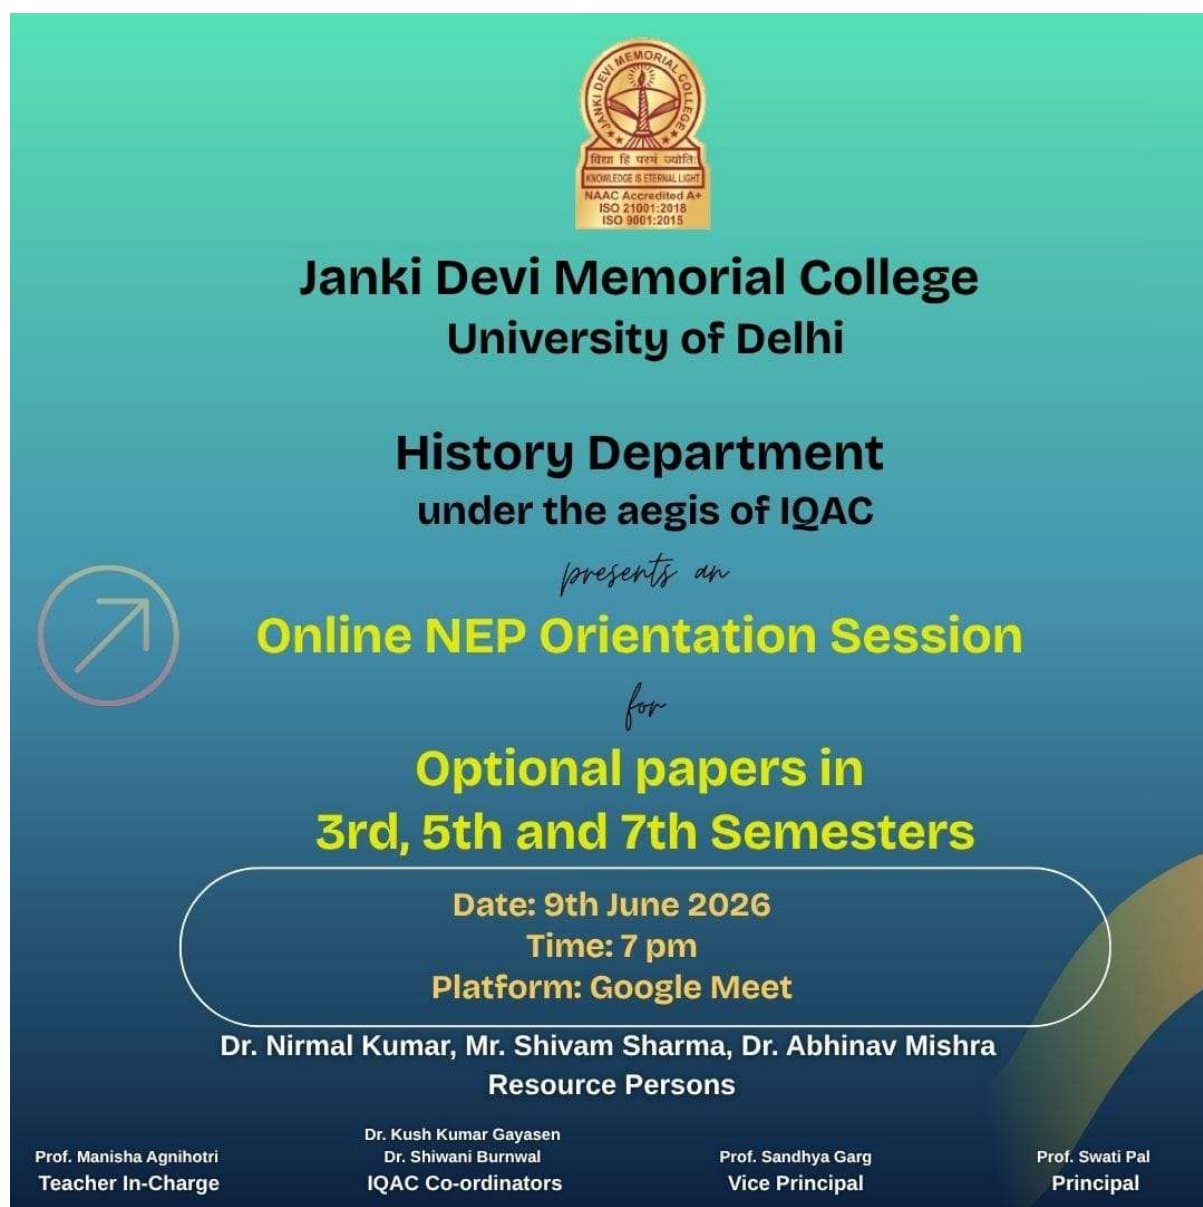

The resource persons for the session were Dr. Abhinav Mishra, Dr. Nirmal Kumar, and Mr. Shivam Sharma, Assistant Professors in the Department of History, Janki Devi Memorial

College, University of Delhi. They provided students with an overview of the optional papers available in the respective semesters and explained their academic scope, objectives, and relevance to the study of history.

The session aimed to help students make informed decisions regarding the selection of optional papers by clarifying the course structure, expected learning outcomes, and academic requirements. The resource persons also emphasised the importance of understanding the content and interdisciplinary dimensions of the available courses before making their choices.

The orientation provided a valuable platform for students to familiarise themselves with the optional paper framework and seek clarification regarding their academic choices. The session concluded with an interactive exchange, enabling students to address their queries and gain greater clarity about the courses offered under NEP.

Poster of the event (English and Hindi):
