In a dazzling blend of intellect, culture, and collaboration, the Centre for International and National Programmes (CINP), Janki Devi Memorial College, proudly hosted a power-packed two-day International Conference on 26-27th March, 2025, that brought together voices from across borders and disciplines. Held under the compelling theme of Indigenous Knowledge Systems and Cultural Resilience: Lessons from the Past for a Sustainable Future, the conference was — a celebration of dialogue, diplomacy, and diversity. Gracing the occasion were esteemed delegates from Uzbekistan and Bhutan respectively, [ Javohir Abduvokhidov, Senior lecturer in English linguistics; Kamalova Shahlo Senior teacher of English; Raimjanova Nilufar , Senior teacher of English,; Zilola Kurbanova Senior Teacher of the Department of "Continuing Education Pedagogy"; Davidov Bobur Senior Teacher of the department of "Physical Education" | Mr. Bimal Chettri, Lecturer in Life Science and Mr. Tshering Wangdi, President] who added a rich global flavor to the gathering. From traditional attire to western formals and thoughtful insights, the presence of all set the perfect tone for an event rooted in cross-cultural exchange and mutual learning. The inaugural of the International Conference hosted by Dakshita Sharma and Anusha Nag, began with an introduction to the Centre, followed by the felicitation of the delegates from Uzbekistan and Bhutan - in a gesture of appreciation and goodwill. The honours were presented by our Principal, the IQAC Coordinator, and the Centre Director, Prof. V. Rajyalakshmi. With tokens of appreciation and heartfelt words, the moment reflected the spirit of academic exchange and cultural harmony that the conference aimed to foster. It was a proud and symbolic highlight, underscoring the collaborative bridges built through dialogue, knowledge, and mutual respect, followed by an inspiring address by our revered Principal, Prof. Swati Pal, whose words echoed with passion and purpose. She traced the legacy of the college, painting a vibrant picture of its academic evolution. But it was when she spoke of the indigenous tribes of India that the room leaned in a little closer — spotlighting communities like the Bishnoi tribe, renowned for their unwavering commitment to environmental preservation. With heartfelt examples, she reminded us that progress doesn't lie in replacing the old with the new, but in harmoniously integrating both — the cornerstone of true sustainable development.

With grace and gravitas, Principal, Prof. Swati Pal, then declared the conference officially open — "Let the International Conference 2025 begin!" — marking the start of two days of enriching dialogue and exchange. Across the conference, seven dynamic sessions unfolded, each chaired by distinguished faculty from the college. From thought-provoking presentations to spirited discussions, every session brought new perspectives to the forefront, leaving the audience informed, inspired, and inquisitive.

Brief Report:

Report on Day 1, Session 1

Date: March 26, 2025

Time: 11:00AM-11:40AM

Venue: Seminar Room

Theme: Gender

Chairperson: Lt. Dr. Debahuti Brahmachari (Associate Professor, JDMC, DU) Host: Kirti (Student, JDMC, DU)

Rapporteur: Aarya Sardesai (Student, JDMC, DU)

The first session of the International Conference commenced with a warm and gracious welcome by the host, Ms. Kirti, a student and member of the Centre for International Programmes (CINP), Janki Devi Memorial College. The session was presided over by Lt. Dr. Debahuti Brahmachari, Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science at JDMC. In recognition of her esteemed presence, Dr. Brahmachari was presented with a token of appreciation by Prof. V. Rajyalaxmi, Director of the Centre, along with Prof. Payal Nagpal, the IQAC Coordinator of JDMC. Following this, the session officially commenced with an insightful presentation by Ms. Ruchika Bhatia, Assistant Professor in the Department of English, JDMC. She presented her paper on "What Constitutes a Woman's Voice in Toni Morrison's Song of Solomon," offering a thought-provoking analysis of gender, identity, and narrative power in Morrison's seminal work.

Presentation Summary:

The theme of this session was Gender wherein diverse perspectives of a gendered world were examined. Ms. Bhatia's paper named What constitutes a woman's voice in Toni Morrison's Song of Solomon emphasised on Toni Morrison's recognition of the absence of black female voices in the literary canon, highlighting her unique perspective shaped by struggle and ancestry. She also deliberated on the combination of existential concerns with mythic presentations of the American society, a world defined by black beauty, complicated issue of self identify and race. The importance was given on the radical use of language in the song and relevance of multiple fragmented selves.

The session concluded with the session chair's valuable remarks for the presenter, followed by an engaging Q&A session. The discussion delved into the lives of Black women and their struggles in American society, fostering a thought-provoking exchange of ideas. As a token of recognition, a certificate of appreciation was presented to the participant by the esteemed session chair. Additionally, the session chair was also honored with a certificate of appreciation by Prof. V. Rajyalaxmi, Director of CINP. With that, Session 1 of the International Conference came to an end, leaving attendees with profound insights and meaningful discussions to reflect upon.

Conclusion:

The session provided a thought-provoking discussion on gendered perspectives, highlighting the significance of indigenous knowledge, cultural traditions, and community-led sustainability efforts. The distinguished speakers, each presenting insightful research on environmental sustainability within different cultural and geographical contexts.

Presentation Summaries:

1. Makhriene Veimy (Ph.D. Research Scholar) – "Forest-Human Relationship: The Role of Naga Tribe's Traditional Methods in Forest Conservation"

The presentation highlighted the Naga tribe's deep-rooted relationship with forests, showcasing their traditional ecological knowledge (TEK) and sustainable conservation practices. The research examined sacred groves, controlled hunting, and community-led forest stewardship as integral to Naga environmental conservation. The study emphasized the importance of integrating indigenous conservation methods with contemporary environmental policies to address modern ecological challenges like deforestation and climate change.

2. Sonam Priya (Scholar, Department of English, Patna University) – "Cultural Sustainability: Environmental Wisdom in the Folk Narratives of Mithila" This presentation explored the environmental wisdom embedded in the folk narratives of Mithila, transmitted through rituals, songs, and art forms like Madhubani painting. The research emphasized the cultural and ecological significance of festivals such as Chhath Puja, which promotes reverence for rivers, and folk stories that highlight trees as protectors of life. The study advocated for integrating these time-tested practices into modern environmental initiatives to bridge cultural heritage with global sustainability goals.

3. Shahida Mushtaq (Student, JDMC, DU) – "The Wind, the Water, and the Wali: Sufi Traditions of Conservation in Kashmir"

This paper examined the intersection of spiritual beliefs and environmental conservation in Kashmir, emphasizing Sufi traditions that promote ecological responsibility. The research discussed how spiritual narratives and indigenous ecological practices foster sustainable coexistence, reinforcing conservation ethics rooted in reverence for natural resources. The study highlighted the need for policy frameworks that incorporate these traditional approaches into modern conservation strategies.

4. Neha Mishra (Scholar, IIT Roorkee) – "Enhancing Social Sustainability in Tourism through a Cultural Perspective: A Study of Mussoorie"

The study focused on the often-overlooked social pillar of sustainable development, particularly within tourism. It examined socio-cultural sustainability in Mussoorie, analyzing primary data from local communities and secondary sources from native historians and authors. The research underscored the role of social capital, culture, and heritage in fostering sustainable tourism, advocating for policies that balance economic development with cultural preservation.

5. Oishee Sarkar (Student, Jadavpur University) – "Between Roots and Reason: Traditional Knowledge vs. Scientific and Technological Knowledge in Environmentalism in the Sundarbans, India"

This presentation explored the coexistence and conflicts between traditional ecological practices and scientific-technological interventions in the Sundarbans. It analyzed the Bonbibi Johurnama, a sacred text promoting ecological balance, and contrasted it with modern state-driven initiatives like eco-tourism projects and nuclear energy development. The study emphasized the need for a balanced conservation approach that integrates indigenous wisdom with scientific advancements to align with Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) 13 and 17.

The session concluded with an engaging Q&A segment, where attendees discussed the implications of these research findings on policy formulation and environmental activism. The insights presented reinforced the urgency of recognizing and preserving indigenous and cultural contributions to global environmental sustainability efforts.

Conclusion:

The session provided a thought-provoking discussion on environmental conservation, highlighting the significance of indigenous knowledge, cultural traditions, and community-led sustainability efforts. Session 2 of the conference, titled "Environment 2," fostered an in-depth exploration of varied perspectives on environmental conservation, sustainability, and the seamless integration of traditional knowledge with contemporary ecological methodologies. The session commenced with the felicitation of the chair, Mr. AHIRRAO DINESH BHARAT, by the Director of the Centre, Prof. V. RAIJALAKSHMI. Chaired with proficiency by Mr. AHIRRAO DINESH BHARAT, Assistant Professor at Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, and moderated by IFFAT AUROOJ, a student of JDMC, DU, the session convened a panel of six eminent experts. Each speaker delivered insightful research on environmental sustainability, rooted in distinct cultural and geographical frameworks, thereby contributing a rich diversity of perspectives to the discourse.

Presentation Summaries:

1. Richika Rana ( Assistant Professor, JDMC, DU) - “ From Traditions to Transformation : Leveraging Indigenous Knowledge for Agricultural Development in India)

The presentation underscored that Indian agriculture stands at a critical juncture. Modern conventional farming methods have not provided a comprehensive solution to the sector's challenges, while traditional practices, such as organic farming, remain in their early stages of development. Traditional farming, an ecologically grounded system, was cultivated by ancient farmers through centuries of engagement with nature and its resources to produce food, fodder, and textiles. Over time, this localized expertise gained social acceptance and validation, integrating into societal practices and evolving into Indigenous Traditional Knowledge (ITK). The Indian agricultural sector faces complex, multifaceted challenges; however, innovative solutions exist that promise a triple benefit: increased productivity, enhanced climate resilience, and reduced input costs. Sikkim exemplifies the successful application of indigenous farming knowledge, having transitioned to a fully organic state in 2016 and continuing to thrive thereafter. Achieving optimal synergy in the agricultural sector necessitates a balanced integration of indigenous and modern farming practices, supported by sustained commitment from all stakeholders through strategic planning, preparedness, farmer capacity building, and phased subsidies. Mr. Ahirrao Dinesh Bharat, the chair, highlighted additional examples of indigenous knowledge systems in agriculture, including the System of Rice Intensification (SRI) in Tamil Nadu, the Zabo system in Nagaland, and the Milpa system in Mexico. In response to a question from a JDM student regarding the most effective alternative agricultural practices for Punjab, the reply emphasized mulching and water harvesting as key strategies, tailored to address the region's specific agricultural needs.

2. Himanshi (Student JDMC D.U) – “Whispers of the Forgotten: A Study of Indigenous Communities, Sacred Knowledge, and Environmental Conservation”

Global warming, ecological collapse, and environmental degradation constitute the foremost crises of our time, highlighting the severe challenges confronting the planet. A primary driver of this global predicament is humanity's pursuit of economic progress, which has prioritized the domination of nature over coexistence with it. Concurrently, modern society has often dismissed indigenous populations as "primitive," viewing their beliefs, attitudes, and practices as obsolete through a restrictive, Eurocentric perspective. Contrary to this perception, indigenous knowledge systems, traditions, and practices are not antiquated but are sophisticated, environmentally attuned, and replete with valuable insights. This paper seeks to explore the relationship between indigenous knowledge systems and contemporary societal development frameworks. It argues that there is an increasing recognition of the sustainable lifestyles practiced by indigenous communities, which demonstrate respect for the planet's elements and offer critical wisdom for living in harmony with ecosystems—wisdom that more "advanced" societies have often disregarded in their reckless exploitation. The paper advocates for inclusive policies, ethical collaboration, and community-driven preservation of knowledge, emphasizing the vital role of indigenous systems in tackling pressing global issues such as climate change, sustainable resource management, and social unity. It raises key questions, including: How do indigenous narratives, myths, and oral traditions embody ecological principles? What is the contribution of indigenous spiritual beliefs to biodiversity conservation? Structured in three sections, the paper first examines the foundations of sustainability, then addresses the consequences of modern development, and finally underscores the essential role of indigenous communities in fostering a sustainable future. The presenter concluded by citing, "Our earth is not inherited but borrowed from our children," a sentiment Mr. Ahirrao Dinesh Bharat, the chair, identified as the central takeaway. In response to a student's query regarding her stance on the slash-and-burn practices of tribal communities, she offered her perspective on this traditional method.

3. Zubair Abdullah (Student JMI University) – “Sustaining Nature: Tribal methods of environmental conservation in Jammu & Kashmir

The presentation focused on transhumant communities, particularly the Gujjar and Bakarwal tribal groups of Jammu, Kashmir, and Ladakh, who are distinguished by their distinctive lifestyle, divergent from mainstream urban norms. These tribes, comprising 14.93 lakh individuals or 12% of the state's population, depend heavily on forests, with over 50% relying on them for their livelihood. Rapid urbanization, industrial growth, and the rise of tourist hotspots have encroached upon grazing lands and led to deforestation, displacing these communities from their traditional habitats. Despite these pressures, the Gujjars and Bakarwals employ their own conservation strategies to sustain their environment. For the Gujjars, livestock is not only a vital resource but also holds deep sentimental value. Anthropologists note that the tribes' unique culture—marked by sustainable agricultural practices and biodiversity preservation—sets them apart from mainstream society. This paper examines how these communities maintain ecological balance, ensuring their surroundings remain habitable and resource-rich while promoting sustainable development, even amidst challenges like overcrowding at tourist sites such as Kashmir's meadows. It draws specifically on insights from the Bakarwal community of Gangabal, Sonamarg, based on interactions during undergraduate research coursework last year, building on the substantial existing scholarship on tribal communities.

4. Palak Dilip Singh (Student JDMC D.U) – “Indigenous ecological wisdom in India: Traditional knowledge for sustainable climate action”

The presentation emphasized that the foundation for a healthier, greener future rests in the ancestral wisdom of indigenous communities, whose traditional knowledge has long guided the protection of nature across generations. Amidst the challenges of climate change, this wisdom offers viable solutions for sustainability. A stable climate underpins the availability of nutritious food, clean water, and air—essentials for all life, from rural to urban settings and across all ages. Traditional knowledge has enabled communities to safeguard the environment and adapt to climatic shifts, as exemplified by ancient Indian farming practices. These methods, including crop rotation, organic farming, and mixed cropping, maintained soil fertility, while advanced irrigation systems from the Indus Valley Civilization and weather forecasting through natural observations—such as cattle movements and wind patterns—demonstrate early sophistication. Indian agriculture historically prioritized harmony with nature over mere food production. This research seeks to revive these proven ancestral practices, neglected since the Green Revolution's chemical-intensive shift, which compromised food nutrition and polluted soil and water. By integrating time-tested traditional knowledge with modern technology, this approach promises an effective, sustainable resolution to contemporary environmental challenges, drawing lessons from a rich past to secure a resilient future.

5. Jigyasha Bora (Student JDMC D.U) – “Indigenous Architecture and Disaster Governance: Building a Sustainable Future Through Seismic Resilience”

The presentation outlined that India's northern and northeastern hilly regions, classified under seismic Zones IV and V per IS 1893 (Part 1): 2023, are highly earthquake-prone yet benefit from resilient traditional architecture. This paper investigates the role of indigenous construction techniques—like Kath-Kunni, Thathara, Assam-type, Dhajji-Dewari, and Taq buildings—in enhancing seismic resilience and supporting sustainable development. These typologies, featuring flexible wooden frameworks, lightweight materials, and effective load distribution, demonstrate inherent strengths but also exhibit specific weaknesses. To address the region's seismic risks, the study recommends integrating traditional methods with modern engineering through retrofitting, material upgrades, and structural reinforcements. Additionally, it advocates for a governance framework that preserves these practices via community-led conservation, financial incentives, and updated building codes. By merging indigenous knowledge with contemporary disaster management, the research promotes a comprehensive approach to seismic resilience and architectural heritage preservation. The chair commended the presenter's skills and inquired whether she would reside in a bamboo house to advocate sustainability, given the prevalence of cement-based construction trends.

6. Amit Vikram Pandey (Student Law School) – “Safeguarding Biodiversity Through Indigenous Patents: The Role of Traditional Knowledge in IPR Protection”

The presentation underscored the intrinsic connection between biodiversity and traditional knowledge, particularly within indigenous communities that have sustainably managed natural resources for centuries. In India, regional biodiversity has been effectively preserved, maintaining its integrity across generations due to educational systems—both formal and informal—that instill values and ethics in children, embedding biodiversity conservation into daily life through practices like nature worship (e.g., venerating earth, water, air, fire, and species such as neem, pipal, cows, and snakes). Literary figures like Mahakavi Kalidas, in Meghdootam, celebrated nature's beauty, while Maharishi Patanjali advanced herbal medicine, yoga, and Ayurveda, alongside Shalya Chikitsa, an indigenous surgical tradition. Pre- and post-independence movements, such as the Chipko Movement and Silent Valley Movement, further exemplify community-driven efforts to protect regional biodiversity. Yet, global intellectual property rights (IPR) frameworks often fail to recognize these contributions, resulting in biopiracy and exploitation. This paper investigates the role of traditional knowledge in biodiversity conservation, evaluates the potential of indigenous patents to safeguard it, and analyzes challenges and opportunities for integrating indigenous rights into IPR systems. Through case studies, legal reforms, relevant case law, and policy recommendations, the study advocates for enhanced protection of traditional knowledge.

The session concluded with an engaging Q&A segment, where attendees examined the implications of the research findings for policy development and environmental advocacy. The insights underscored the urgent need to recognize and safeguard indigenous and cultural contributions to global sustainability efforts. Subsequently, the chair received a certificate of appreciation from the, Director of the Centre, Prof. V. Rajyalakshmi.

Conclusion:

The session offered a compelling exploration of environmental conservation, spotlighting the value of indigenous knowledge, cultural practices, and grassroots sustainability efforts. The speakers brought a range of viewpoints, each providing a distinct perspective on understanding and advancing environmental sustainability. The conversation highlighted the importance of integrating traditional wisdom with modern scientific methods to foster a comprehensive and inclusive strategy for environmental preservation.

Day 2, Session 1

Date: March 27, 2025

Time: 10:00AM-11:00AM

Venue: Seminar Room

Theme: Indigenous Knowledge Systems (IKS) - Tribes

Chairperson: Dr. Ruby Bhardwaj, Associate Professor, JDMC, DU

Host: Anusha Nag (Student, JDMC, DU)

Rapporteur: Aarya Sardesai (Student, JDMC, DU)

The inaugural session of the International Conference commenced with a warm and gracious welcome by the host, Ms. Anusha, a student and a member of CINP at Janki Devi Memorial College. The session was presided over by Dr. Ruby Bhardwaj, Associate Professor at JDMC, who was honored with a token of appreciation by Prof. Payal Nagpal, the IQAC Coordinator of the college. The session unfolded with thought-provoking discussions led by three distinguished speakers, each offering a wealth of insights on sustainability and indigenous knowledge systems. Their presentations explored diverse cultural and holistic approaches, fostering a deeper understanding of the intersection between tradition and modernity in addressing contemporary global challenges.

Presentation Summaries :

1. Ms. Ananya Singhania (STUDENT, SRI VENKATESWARA COLLEGE)

Paper Name: Preserving the Wisdom of the Tribes: The Importance of Indigenous Knowledge Systems in the Modern World

The presentation focused on a modernised world and the relevance of indigenous knowledge systems and their potential to deliver a sustainable tomorrow. Ms. Ananya emphasised on incorporation of various research methodologies to find out the intricate nature of tribal wisdom and its application into the modernised world. Finally she discussed about maintenance of cultural resistance, promotion of tribal knowledge to hold on to sustainability initiatives and ensure a world that is inclusive of tribal population and their life skills.

2. Ms. Tanisha L N (SCHOLAR ECO-SPIRITUALITY IN THE BANJARA LAMBADI COMMUNITY)

Paper Name: Indigenous Practices and Their Impact on Well-Being

The paper emphasised on Banjara, a diverse and mobile cultural group of ethnic communities that are known to practice varied forms of art through creation of cultural repositories and Lambadis, a nomadic subgroup of the Banjaras who engage extensively in embroidery, dance, folk songs, fortune telling, narrative tales etc. Ms. Tanisha focused on a vibrant range of practices that the community preaches for protection of forests and water resources, interactions with environmental entities and animals and the significance of tattooing. Overall the aim of the presentation was to situate these findings within the broader discourse on holistic tribal lifestyles, demonstrating how regional medicines and traditional techniques can improve contemporary approaches to environmental sustainability.

3. Mr. Javohir Abduvokhidov (SENIOR PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH, ORIENTAL UNIVERSITY, UZBEKISTAN)

Paper Name: Lexical Characteristics of borrowed words from one language to another in the process of language development.

This paper explored the lexical characteristics of borrowed words in the context of language development, focusing on the dynamics of linguistic exchange between languages. Mr. Javohir investigates how borrowed terms are adapted phonologically, morphologically, and semantically within the recipient language, reflecting cultural influences and socio-historical contexts. By analysing various case studies, the research highlights patterns of borrowing, including the motivations for lexical adoption and the impact on the evolving lexicon of the recipient language. Ultimately, he highlighted on enhancing our understanding of the role of borrowed words in enriching linguistic diversity and fostering cross-cultural communication.

The session concluded with insightful remarks from the chair, who provided valuable suggestions to enhance the research orientation of the speakers. The engaging Q&A segment fostered a dynamic exchange of ideas, with attendees actively discussing the broader implications of the research findings on tribal practices, sustainable approaches, linguistic diversity, and cultural development. The thought-provoking insights shared throughout the session reinforced the critical need to recognize and preserve indigenous and cultural contributions to global environmental sustainability efforts. As the discussion drew to a close, participants collectively emphasized the significance of indigenous knowledge systems and their practical applications, underscoring their enduring relevance in shaping a more sustainable and inclusive future.

Conclusion:

The session provided a thought-provoking discussion on Indigenous Knowledge Systems, , highlighting the significance of indigenous knowledge, cultural traditions, and community-led sustainability efforts. The speakers presented diverse perspectives, each offering a unique lens through which environmental sustainability, linguistic and cultural diversity can be understood and implemented. The discussion underscored the necessity of bridging traditional wisdom with contemporary scientific approaches to ensure a holistic and inclusive approach towards tribal communities, languages and their usage and cultural practices in rural areas of the world.

Cultural Resilience

This paper underscored the interconnectedness of Indigenous Knowledge Systems (IKS), arts, culture, and sustainability, highlighting their crucial role in environmental stewardship and cultural resilience. Traditional artistic practices serve as repositories of ecological wisdom, ethical principles, and sustainable resource management strategies. However, globalization, climate change, and cultural disintegration threaten these traditions, necessitating urgent preservation and integration into contemporary sustainability paradigms. Effective models of Indigenous arts and cultural practices have facilitated sustainable living and environmental conservation, advocating for a comprehensive approach that integrates IKS into sustainability policies, community-driven initiatives, and intercultural collaborations. When asked about the necessity and challenges of implementing IKS, the presenter emphasized the need to acknowledge and revitalize Indigenous arts and cultural heritage to ensure a more inclusive and sustainable future.

2. Dr. Raju Keshari ( Assistant Professor JDMC D.U)

Revisiting Aurobindo's Idea of Freedom: A Contemporary Perspective The presentation focused on the concept of internal and external freedom, highlighting that Shri Aurobindo was deeply committed to the idea of freedom throughout his public life. Initially, he fought for political and economic freedom, actively engaging in the national movement against colonial forces. Over time, his understanding of freedom evolved, becoming more metaphysical. He began to view freedom as "moral and spiritual freedom of humanity from forces of darkness and ignorance." The paper aimed to explore Aurobindo's ideas of freedom from a contemporary perspective, emphasizing its relevance to the functioning of modern democratic societies. The session concluded with two key questions: What differences do you see between the early and later Aurobindo's thoughts, and do you believe colonial tensions influenced his views?

3. Dr. Devinder ( Assistant Professor Ramjas College D.U)

Understanding the Bhagwat Geeta from an ecological perspective

Understanding the Bhagwat Geeta from an ecological perspective. He highlights his presentation by defining gita more of a philosophical teaching than religious teaching. He refers to nature as a cosmic body and defines the world to be an indifferent part of ourselves. He stresses that the world can be a better place if we start reflecting nature as an internal part of ourselves. Hinduism and Ecology: the intersection of Earth, Sky, and Water. The session ended by him being inquired on his views on how his co-relates ecological issues and teachings of Gita.

The question-and-answer segment delved into the critical role of Indigenous Knowledge Systems (IKS) in addressing contemporary ecological challenges. Participants engaged in a thought-provoking discussion on the necessity of IKS in shaping sustainable solutions, while also acknowledging the challenges associated with its documentation, preservation, and transmission across generations. The conversation further explored the multifaceted nature of IKS, unveiling the deep interconnections between ecological, cultural, spiritual, and social dimensions. A particularly intriguing aspect of the discussion was the exploration of ancient Indian epics and their relevance to modern ecological issues, illustrating how traditional wisdom can offer valuable insights for contemporary sustainability efforts.

Conclusion:

This session highlighted the significance of Indigenous Knowledge Systems (IKS) in promoting sustainable living, environmental conservation, and cultural resilience. By examining the interconnectedness of IKS, arts, culture, and sustainability, we underscore the importance of preserving and integrating traditional knowledge into contemporary sustainability paradigms. As we move forward, it is essential to acknowledge and revitalize Indigenous arts and cultural heritage, recognizing the invaluable contributions of Indigenous communities to our collective well-being. By embracing IKS, we can foster a more inclusive, equitable, and sustainable future, one that honors the wisdom of Indigenous peoples and promotes a harmonious coexistence with the natural environment.

Presentation Summaries :

1. Iffat Aurooj (Student, JDMC) - "Woven in Fire, Carved in Snow: The Unyielding Soul of Kashmiri Craft"-

The presenter emphasized the intricacy and cultural significance of Kashmiri handicrafts, including Pashmina weaving, Sozni embroidery, Papier-mâché, and Pheran making, as vital expressions of heritage and artistic mastery. The discussion highlighted the threats of globalization, particularly how cheap machine-made imitations undermine artisans' livelihoods and authenticity. Exploring the pre- and post-independence journey of Kashmiri textiles, the speaker stressed the financial struggles of craftsmen and the fading value of traditional crafts. Proposed solutions included GI tag, NGO efforts, digital marketing, and ethical consumerism. The session concluded with a powerful statement: reviving Kashmiri art is reviving Kashmiri identity, advocating for a balance between innovation and tradition to preserve cultural heritage

2. Dr Md. Khurshid Alam (Assistant Professor, JDMC) - "Lessons from the Taj: Understanding our Medieval Heritage as a System of Sustainable Knowledge."

The presenter began with a quote by Hazrat Ameer Khusro, highlighting the Taj Mahal's ethereal beauty. He discussed its historical and architectural significance, emphasizing its precision, symmetry, strong and sustainable construction which protects it from natural disasters like earthquakes emphasizing its beauty and resilience. He explained in detail about its strong foundation which was reinforced with wells and a wooden platform to withstand weak soil near Yamuna river, the use of lime mortar, and the floating illusion of its 35m onion-shaped dome. He also noted that the Taj Mahal is an engineering marvel which just took 20 to 22 years to build with such limited technology in terms of the present times. He covered the Hasht-Bahisht Bagh and Shah Jahana Bagh, symbolizing the concept of heaven, and the graves of Shah Jahan and Mumtaz Mahal inside the monument. status as a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the Seven Wonders. He highlighted how the Taj Mahal blends Islamic and Indian architectural styles, with its lotus structure inspired by Hindu temples and Chhatis influenced by Rajputana forts. He concluded by stressing the need to preserve heritage while embracing innovation. At the end of the presentation, a delegate from Uzbekistan asked about the reason behind the Taj Mahal's changing colour of the white marble. The presenter attributed it to climate change, explaining how environmental factors have impacted the monument's appearance.

The session concluded with an engaging Q&A segment, where attendees discussed the implications of these research findings on climate change, preserving cultural heritage, shaping policy formulation and advancing global environmental sustainability. The insights presented reinforced the urgency of recognizing and preserving indigenous and cultural contributions to global environmental sustainability efforts.

Conclusion:

The event served as a dynamic platform for meaningful discussions, bringing together students, professors, and distinguished delegations from Bhutan and Uzbekistan. It fostered insightful exchanges on pressing global issues, particularly sustainability, through the expertise of academicians, scholars, and students. By exploring indigenous knowledge systems and cultural resilience, the discussions enriched perspectives on working towards a sustainable future. The event not only deepened academic understanding but also strengthened cross-cultural collaboration, reinforcing the importance of collective efforts in addressing contemporary challenges.

Session 7 of the conference, titled "Gandhi's Philosophy," focused on key themes such as non-violence and conflict resolution, swaraj and self-rule, simple living and sustainability, social justice and equality, and spirituality and personal transformation. The session began with the felicitation of the chair, Dr. Prerna Arora, and Mrs. Nirmala Muralidhar, by the Centre's Director, Prof. V. Rajyalakshmi. The session was expertly chaired by Dr. Garg and Mrs. Muralidhar, Assistant Professor at Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, and moderated by Iffat Aurooj, a student of JDMC, DU. It featured a panel of three distinguished experts, each presenting insightful research on Gandhi's philosophical ideas, offering a deeper understanding of his vision for a just, equitable, and peaceful society

Presentation Summaries:

1. Kush Kumar Gyaasen (Assistant Professor JDMC, D.U)

From Conflict to Peace: Theorizing Conflict Resolution and Peace-building Through Gandhian Principles

The presentation began by contrasting Western and traditional Indigenous knowledge systems, highlighting international conflict as a pervasive aspect of global politics, akin to conflict in human relations. Many International Relations scholars have examined conflict resolution and peacebuilding methods, such as mediation, reconciliation, adjudication, and arbitration, to assess their effectiveness. Gandhi's approach provides a transformative alternative, focusing on negotiation, dialogue, and reconciliation through principles like truth, forgiveness, and compassion. His success during India's independence movement, using dialogue, understanding, and reconciliation, demonstrates the efficacy of these methods. Gandhi's influence also shaped global movements like the U.S. Civil Rights Movement and South Africa's anti-apartheid struggle. As Weber observes, Gandhi was not just a practitioner but also a profound conflict theorist, suggesting his integration into conflict resolution theory. This paper examines conflict resolution and peacebuilding through a Gandhian lens, exploring how methods like dialogue, negotiation, and reconciliation can address contemporary conflicts and contribute to global peacebuilding efforts. The session concluded with Dr. Dinesh Bharat Ahirrao (JDMC faculty) asking the presenter about the relevance of Gandhian philosophy in the international arena.

2. Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed (Associate Professor JDMC, D.U)

Aesthetics of Slowness: Gandhian Approach to Sustainable Life

The presenter opened his talk by emphasizing the aesthetics of a "slow life," using the Delhi vs. Government of Delhi case concerning rickshaw pullers as a focal point. He addressed the tendency to label Mahatma Gandhi as anti-modern, with his philosophy often dismissed as conservative, utopian, or anti-progressive. This paper, however, seeks to contest such reductive interpretations. A closer examination of Gandhi's writings and actions reveals no intent to retreat to a primitive past, urging a rejection of simplistic binaries in favor of a comprehensive analysis to glean insights for our fast-paced, violent, self-absorbed, and consumer-driven existence. The paper aims to articulate a Gandhian framework for sustainable living in contemporary times, employing "slowness" as a remedy for modern lifestyle ailments. It is organized around key themes: a review of scholarly critiques of Gandhi's stance on modern civilization, and an exploration of principles such as voluntary simplicity, self-imposed poverty, harmony with nature, respect for humanity, satyagraha, nonviolence, and constructive programs as pathways to sustainability. The chair underscored the session's emphasis on inclusivity and the ethical application of technology as critical imperatives. The session concluded with a student querying the presenter's perspective on the "Make in India" initiative.

3. Kaushki Kumari ( Research Scholar Patna University)

Media Advocacy: The role of video game in revitalizing and promoting Indian Epic. This presentation explored how video games act as advocacy tools for preserving and promoting indigenous epics, applying Marshall McLuhan's "The medium is the message" theory. It argues that video games' interactive nature transforms cultural narratives, as seen in Gamaya: The Legend, which integrates the Ramayana into gameplay. Unlike passive media, games engage players in active participation, deepening their connection to the content and offering creators a dynamic platform for cultural expression. McLuhan's framework suggests that gaming mechanics—branching narratives, open-world exploration, and puzzles—enhance cultural preservation while countering stereotypes. By converting epics into interactive experiences, games foster deeper understanding and serve as immersive cultural archives. The study concludes that video games exemplify McLuhan's theory, functioning as powerful digital advocacy tools that revitalize and promote indigenous stories through encoded, engaging storytelling.

The session concluded with an engaging Q&A segment, where attendees explored the implications of the research findings and delved into the profound teachings of Gandhi's philosophy. The interactive discussion highlighted the relevance of Gandhian principles such as non-violence, self-reliance, and truth in addressing contemporary challenges. Subsequently, the chair was honored with a certificate of appreciation by the Director of the Centre, Prof. V. Rajyalakshmi, recognizing their valuable contribution to the discourse.

2. Oriental University, Tashkent, Uzbekistan

Brief Report :

Date & Time: 30th January, 2024 11:00 AM (India) 10:30 (Uzbekistan)

Venue: Committee Room

Participants: 39

The Centre for International and National Programmes at Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, in partnership with Oriental University in Tashkent, Uzbekistan, hosted a round table conference on 'Pedagogical Practices' on 30th January at 11 a.m. (Indian time) (10:30 a.m. Uzbekistan time). The anchors, Shahida Mustaq and Dakshita Sharma, together with the Director of the Centre for International and National Programmes, Prof. V Rajyalakshmi, and Principal, Prof. Swati Pal, warmly greeted the collaboration partners and the academic members from Oriental University in Tashkent, Uzbekistan. Swati Pal, Principal, opened the round table discussion by presenting faculty members from the English Department's Centre for International and National Programmes (Dr. Jitendra Gill, Ms. Ruchika Bhatia, Mr. Ankan Dhar, and Ms. Ruchi Kalita). The English Department was strategically chosen to host this round table conference, as English serves as a universal language, facilitating seamless communication and collaboration among the institution. Furthermore, the department's focus on language and literature provided a unique lens to explore and grasp the nuances of pedagogical framework.

Round Table Conference - Pedagogical Practices

A) Presentation by the English Department - Janki Devi Memorial College

Dr. Jitendra Gill proceeded by highlighting the value of literary texts - 'How to Read a Language'. She set a paradigm of how language works in literature. She stated that reading is one of the four abilities of language learning and used the introductory line of Pride And Prejudice and a poem by Emily Dickinson to underscore her pedagogical practice. Reading is a complex process that elicits a variety of physical, intellectual, and emotional responses. It is an ability that allows students to interpret a language in written form in order to extract the thoughts, facts, meanings, and information that it was intended to convey, as demonstrated by Pride and Prejudice. Finally, she stated that reading is the best form of recreation because books are the best and longest-lasting friends. . Further, Ms. Ruchika Bhatia discussed storyline, characters and themes as primary parameters while teaching language. She also highlighted the difference between a story and a plot and the primary characteristic of flat and a round character. Last but not least, Mr. Ankan Dhar and Ms. Ruchi Kalita emphasized the importance of amalgamation of play, art, and natural experiences in fostering a holistic development of a child. Central to this approach is the idea of experiential learning, wherein children learn by engaging with their surroundings and expressing creativity. Teachers are encouraged to utilize teaching aids such as pictures, artifacts, and natural materials to connect theoretical knowledge with practical applications.

This framework highlights the importance of creating inclusive and child-friendly environments that cater to diverse learning needs and cultural contexts.

B) A overview given by the Oriental University

Mr. Abbas introduced to us a significant aspect of their English department framework which is to focus on student centric classroom and character-building through interactive activities and hands-on learning. Teachers play a pivotal role in facilitating a balance between structured and unstructured learning, ensuring that children develop critical thinking and social skills. Pedagogical practices are designed to be dynamic and adaptable, allowing for the incorporation of storytelling, group discussions, and observational techniques to enhance engagement and knowledge retention. They highlighted the importance of wash back effect, CLT (communicative language teaching) and CPT (common planning time) as one of their 'Pedagogical Practices.

Overall, both universities shared diverse ideas and teaching styles. Prof. Swati Pal emphasized the value of collaboration between academics and the larger community. By using common resources and cultural history, this method attempted to bridge educational gaps and provide a solid basis for lifelong learning. She also proposed a third Round Table Conference, this time focusing on art and architecture for multi-learning experiences that would further assist cognitive and emotional maturation in young learners. This pedagogical paradigm aims to empower children by encouraging resilience and creativity while also cultivating a knowledge of their surroundings and cultural identity

Prosperity Through Philosophy: Practice and Principles Foreword

Message from the Course Co-ordinator

I am writing to extend my warmest congratulations to the team for compiling the insightful discussions that took place in the add-on course Prosperity Through Philosophy: Practice and Principles! The dedication to exploring the depths of philosophical inquiry has been inspiring to witness, and I commend everyone who took part for their intellectual curiosity and engagement throughout the course.

Philosophy is a discipline that challenges us to question assumptions, think critically, and contemplate the fundamental aspects of existence and human experience. Your contributions and reflections during our discussions have enriched this experience, and the journey of this course filled with intellect and thoughtfulness.

With the completion of this book, we glance at the lectures and discussions offered by the many esteemed guests and teachers. The knowledge we have acquired in the process of this course is something we all will take along with us in life – doing justice to its name and incorporating philosophy in our practices. Remember, learning is a lifelong journey, and this achievement marks an important milestone in your educational and personal growth. I encourage you to continue exploring and expanding your knowledge.

I wish everyone all the best in their future endeavours. May this accomplishment be the stepping stone to many more successes in your academic and professional life.

Message from the Program Co-ordinator

Philosophy is a discipline that is always accompanied by practice. What we learn, we must also incorporate in our life. In the add-on course offered by the Department of Philosophy, Janki Devi Memorial College, and INADS, Dartmouth, we aimed to discuss the aspects of philosophy one can implement in daily life. I congratulate everyone on completing this course. Your commitment to delving deeper into philosophical thought and expanding your understanding of this profound discipline is truly commendable.

This course has been a journey with exceptional insights and discussions brought about by teachers and students alike. It has enabled us to nurture our passion for philosophy and apply the analytical skills developed in all aspects of our lives. This curation of lectures and students' projects is a mark of all the knowledge shared during this course. This add-on course was filled with debates and insightful lectures on philosophical issues, along with projects presented by students.

I congratulate the Department of Philosophy, Janki Devi Memorial College, and the Institute of Advanced Sciences, Dartmouth, for the completion of this course, and the curation of all the lectures in this book, and wish everyone all the very best for such endeavours in the future!

The etymological meaning of Philosophy is love or liking of wisdom. “Sophie” is knowledge, wisdom and rationality. This idea of philosophy refers to an old age tradition of discussion and sharing knowledge with one another. This is how the idea of philosophy has started. People obviously had in mind the concept of discussion and argumentation. Such as, they would indulge with one another in conversation and contradiction over certain matters and enter into debate passionately over such issues. This is how the idea of Philosophy developed.

‘Sophia’ also means rational. In Hindi, we could say, ‘तर्क्, वितर्क् तथा कुतर्क्’. All of them are part of discussion. It is here that I want to develop my idea of Darshana. It starts with hypothesis, people want to get somewhere with it. It is known as ‘परिकल्पना’ in hindi. It is important to understand the concept of darshana, we need to know the cultures it has evolved from. Hypothesis in the present sense will be some kind of parikalpana. Further, when we prove something by means of reason/Tarka, Vittarka and Kutarka, it forms a reasonable part of discussion. Ultimately, we want to have some hypothesis. In case of empirical science, when we need to prove something, it is mandatory to state the hypothesis that we intend to prove. After which, we make observations to prove the hypothesis. It is pivotal to note that, when we prove the hypothesis, it is then when it becomes science/Darshana.

I would like to make a point here, that Darshana is ‘Pratyaksha Pramana’. In case of sciences, we use sophisticated instruments. Like if we take a project and try to prove something, we may not have sophisticated device to get the data. But we may take the data through observations, collect the data and then analyse it in terms of its result<sup>1</sup>.

In case of hypothesis we work on inference. To prove the ‘Parikalpa’ we make use of Anumana. Through observation we analyse whether it is proved or not. In Darshana, it is imperative to prove a point, as far as my understanding goes of philosophy. However, Prof. Rakesh Chandra has contrary views on it. According to him, if you prove something, then it cannot be labelled as philosophy. He further reserves his opinion that philosophy remains at the level of<sup>1</sup> Here we may refer to the project ‘Bindi’ undertaken by JDMC students. For instance, if we do the scanner to see the degree of lines observed on the forehead.. This may be covered by more than one person. Some students may make observations and may come to some conclusions. For example, strong wrinkled, modest wrinkled and mild wrinkled forehead. On this basis, they may score it as 3, 2 and 1 respectively.

In conclusion, balancing material and relational wealth is crucial for achieving true prosperity in today's world. While material wealth provides physical comfort and a higher standard of living, relational wealth enriches life through emotional security and strong social connections. Contemporary society often prioritizes economic growth and material accumulation, sometimes at the expense of relational well-being. However, the increasing recognition of mental health issues and the importance of work-life balance highlights the need to value relational wealth equally. By fostering strong social ties and community networks alongside economic development, we can enhance overall life satisfaction and create a more resilient, cohesive society.

Poster Making Competition

(Mode: Online)

22nd April, 2025

Janki Devi Memorial College (University of Delhi) in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi Government College (Pondicherry University), organised a Poster Making Competition under the Vidya Vistar Scheme. The event was conducted in an online mode, allowing participants to showcase their talent through virtual submissions. The competition lasted for 3 hours on 22nd April from 9:00 AM to 12:00 pm and the submissions were made via a Google form with the aforementioned time limit. The competition saw enthusiastic participation from both organisations and served as a platform for promoting Sustainable Initiatives and Protection of Biodiversity especially since the day was Earth Day. The esteemed panel of judges for the event included Dr Neeru Vashisth (Commerce Dept, JDMC) and Dr Deepak Rawat (EVS Dept, JDMC). Their expertise and insights ensured a fair evaluation of all the posters that were submitted based on the message that was portrayed, originality and skill. The competition concluded successfully with a great display of enthusiasm and skill from all participants. The winners of the competition were announced based on their outstanding performance. The results are as follows:

1st Prize: Poorja Bairagi (MGGC)

2nd Prize: Durga (MGGC), Tanushree Biswas (MGGC)

3rd Prize: Supriya Mondal (MGGC), Shuva Chakraborty (JDMC)

The online poster-making competition held on Earth Day successfully highlighted the critical importance of protecting biodiversity through sustainable initiatives. Participants creatively expressed their ideas, emphasizing the urgent need for conservation, responsible resource use, and environmental stewardship. The event not only showcased artistic talent but also inspired greater awareness and commitment toward building a more sustainable and biodiverse future.

Folk Song Singing Competition

ONLINE MODE

Janki Devi Memorial College (University of Delhi), in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi Government College (Pondicherry University) and Devnar Junior and Degree College for the Blind (Hyderabad, Telangana), organized a Folk Singing Competition under the Vidya Vistar Scheme. The event was conducted in an online mode, allowing participants to showcase their talent through virtual submissions. The last date for submission was 26th March 2025, and participants were given time until 27th March 2025, 10 p.m., to share their video performances via a designated WhatsApp group.

The competition saw enthusiastic participation from students across different institutions. This initiative provided a platform to promote folk music and cultural diversity while fostering artistic expression among students. The esteemed panel of judges for the competition included Dr. Prerna Arora from the Music Department, JDMC, and Ms. Shalini Singh from the Political Science Department, JDMC. Their expertise and insights ensured a fair evaluation of all performances based on vocal quality, originality, and presentation.

The competition concluded successfully, with a great display of enthusiasm and talent from all participants. The winners of the competition were announced based on their outstanding performances. The results are as follows:

1st Prize: Anuja, Janki Devi Memorial College

2nd Prize: Pinky Das, Mahatma Gandhi Government College

AND

Anushka Saha, Janki Devi Memorial College

3rd Prize: Kanna, Devnar Junior and Degree College

This event not only celebrated the richness of folk music but also strengthened the academic and cultural ties between the collaborating institutions. The faculty coordinators and student organizers played a crucial role in ensuring the smooth execution of the competition. Such initiatives under the Vidya Vistar Scheme continue to enhance inter-institutional learning and cultural appreciation.

Report on the Inter-College Quiz on Indian Culture and Heritage Organised on 13th May 2025

Janki Devi Memorial College, under the aegis of JDMC IQAC, successfully organised an Inter-College Quiz Competition on 13th May 2025 in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi Government College and Devnar Junior College, as part of the Vidya Vistar Scheme. The quiz was held virtually on Google Meet and commenced at 12:30 PM. The event aimed to promote awareness and appreciation of Indian culture and heritage among students.

A total of 10 students participated in the quiz, representing the three collaborating institutions. The quiz saw enthusiastic participation and lively engagement, with students demonstrating both preparation and keen interest in the theme.

The event was hosted by Mr. Anuj Kumar and was supervised and coordinated by Dr. M. Zubeer Ahmed, both faculty members of Janki Devi Memorial College. At the institutional level, Ms. Keerthi from Devnar Junior Degree College and Mr. Shri Siripuram Riusuhikesh from Mahatma Gandhi Government College coordinated the event in their respective colleges, ensuring smooth participation and engagement from their students.

The winners of the quiz are as follows:

- First Prize (₹2000): K. Eshwar and Srujan from Devnar Junior and Degree College
- Second Prize (₹1500): Evance and Arman from Mahatma Gandhi Government College.
- Third Prize (₹1000): Anusha and Pravalika from Devnar Junior and Degree College

The event concluded with a vote of thanks and expressions of appreciation for the participants, organisers, and collaborating institutions. The quiz not only tested knowledge but also fostered a sense of cultural pride and inter-institutional camaraderie.

Zubeer Ahmed and Dr. Kush Kumar Gayasen and three members; Mr. Ahirrao Dinesh Bharat, Ms. Chanpreet Kaur, and Dr. Raju Keshari. Students, who aim to clear the various competitive exams conducted by UPSC, State Public Service Commission, National Testing Agency (NTA) etc. opted for these classes. The primary objective of these foundation classes was to provide the basic knowledge about important topics from examination point of view, and orient the students to explore further on their own. The topics for lectures were selected keeping in mind the General Studies, Political Science and International Relations components of various competitive exams.

The classes were open for all bonafide students (female&male) and ex-students of the University of Delhi. The classes commenced on 20th September 2024, with a total of 46 students registering. Of these, 14 students were from Devnar Junior and Degree College for the Blind, and 5 students were from Mahatma Gandhi Government College, Mayabunder, under the Vidya Vistaar Scheme of the University of Delhi. Admission was granted to all 19 of these students free of cost. Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed, the Nodal Officer from Janki Devi Memorial College for the Vidya Vistaar Scheme of the University of Delhi, has led the collaboration between the three colleges under the scheme.

The course was divided into 74 modules covering the broad areas of History, Economics, Political Science, International Relations, Foreign Policy, Sociology, English, Mathematics, Geography, Science & Technology, Current Affairs, Essay writing and components of Personality test. The classes were taken by the successful candidates in the Civil Services exam, faculties from various departments of the college and experts from outside. One module of two hours was discussed every Friday and Saturday and Sunday. All the lectures were delivered in online mode. Name of the Resource Persons with Affiliation 1. Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed- Associate Professor (Department of Political Science, JDMC). 2. Mr. Ahirrao Dinesh Bharat- Assistant Professor (Department of Political Science, JDMC).

Hybrid Mode

Janki Devi Memorial College, under the Vidya Vistar Scheme, organised a Declamation Competition, in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi Government College, Andaman, and Devnar Junior and Degree College for the Blind, Hyderabad. The competition was organised on April 7, 2025 at 10 AM. The event was conducted in hybrid mode with students from MGGC and Devnar College participating online. The topic of the competition was, ‘Should cultural traditions change with time or remain constant?’ The participants could speak in either Hindi or English.

The competition had nine participants from the three colleges. Students displayed their skills of public speaking, reasoning and persuasion. The competition was jointly judged by Dr. Jitender Gill, Associate Professor, Dept. of English, JDMC, and Mr. Siripuram Rushikesh, Guest Faculty, Dept. of History, MGGC. The three prize winners of the competition were:

First Prize – Ms. Anisha Halder (MGGC)

Second Prize – Ms. Soniya Bahadur (MGGC)

Third Prize – Mr. K Srinath (Devnar College)

As part of ongoing initiative, ICT Academy has planned to host the expert-led seminar series dedicated to current and emerging topics across domains. In today's world, the globalization of national economies, penetration of Information and communication technologies, convergence of markets and sectors has impacted all the industries. Students of present day must understand how they are structured, functioning, how they change and get affected by both technology and regulation.

POWER SEMINAR is a series of half- day seminar, featuring multiple tracks with noted speakers offered at several locations on highly technical issues or to teach the fundamentals of a specific application to pre-final / final year engineering / Arts & Science graduate students across the Tamil Nadu. At each seminar, expert speakers will give an informal talk about the research cum latest development happening in the field, which has direct cum indirect impact on the business. This will be followed by activities of questions/suggestions/brainstorming. The seminar has a sole objective of igniting their minds which leads to some interesting cross-disciplinary thoughts and get some new ideas and directions about their research and also on the life skills. It also enhances the essential academic skills, develop and utilize critical thinking skills which are considered necessary for academic success. The "POWER SEMINAR" covers broad range of topics across verticals.

This initiative aims to foster collaboration between educational institutions and industry leaders to enhance the learning experience and skill development of our students. Our goal is to establish partnerships with institutions that are committed to advancing their students' knowledge in the field of database technology. Each participating institution is encouraged to ensure a minimum of 100 students complete the self-learning modules provided by MongoDB. This is a fantastic opportunity for students to gain valuable skills in a critical technology area.

14. Women Power Connect, New Delhi

The BIP was a collaboration between the University of Muenster, Germany and Janki Devi Memorial College, Delhi University from 2017-22 and from 2023 onwards it is in collaboration with Women Power Connect and Janki Devi Memorial College, Delhi University A series of workshops aimed at creating gender awareness and sensitization and most important to teach students strategies of intervention, are conducted under this program

Each session starts with an introduction to the goals of the program and the modules by the resource persons of the day. The goals of these sessions are to enable the students to:

- make participants reflect about topics like gender, healthy relationships, sexual violence and bystander behavior.
- inform participants about how gender stereotypes contribute to the occurrence of sexual violence and what rape myths are.
- support participants in finding strategies on how to intervene in potentially violent situations and how to communicate effectively in interpersonal relationships.
- engage participants as potential witnesses of sexual violence.

There are four modules in this programme-

- Gender
- Healthy relationships and communication
- Sexual violence
- Bystander intervention

Attending Vandana Ma'am's bystander workshop was a truly enriching experience. Her ability to break down complex ideas into simple, relatable scenarios helped me understand how to be more responsible in challenging situations. I especially appreciated how she made everyone feel heard and respected. The session left me more confident in my ability to speak up and support others.

ONLINE MODE

Janki Devi Memorial College (University of Delhi), in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi Government College (Pondicherry University) and Devnar Junior and Degree College for the Blind (Hyderabad, Telangana), organized a Folk Singing Competition under the Vidya Vistar Scheme. The event was conducted in an online mode, allowing participants to showcase their talent through virtual submissions. The last date for submission was 26th March 2025, and participants were given time until 27th March 2025, 10 p.m., to share their video performances via a designated WhatsApp group.

The competition saw enthusiastic participation from students across different institutions. This initiative provided a platform to promote folk music and cultural diversity while fostering artistic expression among students. The esteemed panel of judges for the competition included Dr. Prerna Arora from the Music Department, JDMC, and Ms. Shalini Singh from the Political Science Department, JDMC. Their expertise and insights ensured a fair evaluation of all performances based on vocal quality, originality, and presentation.

The competition concluded successfully, with a great display of enthusiasm and talent from all participants. The winners of the competition were announced based on their outstanding performances. The results are as follows:

1st Prize: Anuja, Janki Devi Memorial College

2nd Prize: Pinky Das, Mahatma Gandhi Government College

AND

Anushka Saha, Janki Devi Memorial College

3rd Prize: Kanna, Devnar Junior and Degree College

This event not only celebrated the richness of folk music but also strengthened the academic and cultural ties between the collaborating institutions. The faculty coordinators and student organizers played a crucial role in ensuring the smooth execution of the competition. Such initiatives under the Vidya Vistar Scheme continue to enhance inter-institutional learning and cultural appreciation.

Report on the Inter-College Quiz on Indian Culture and Heritage

Organised on 13th May 2025

Janki Devi Memorial College, under the aegis of JDMC IQAC, successfully organised an Inter-College Quiz Competition on 13th May 2025 in collaboration with Mahatma Gandhi Government College and Devnar Junior College, as part of the Vidya Vistar Scheme. The quiz was held virtually on Google Meet and commenced at 12:30 PM. The event aimed to promote awareness and appreciation of Indian culture and heritage among students.

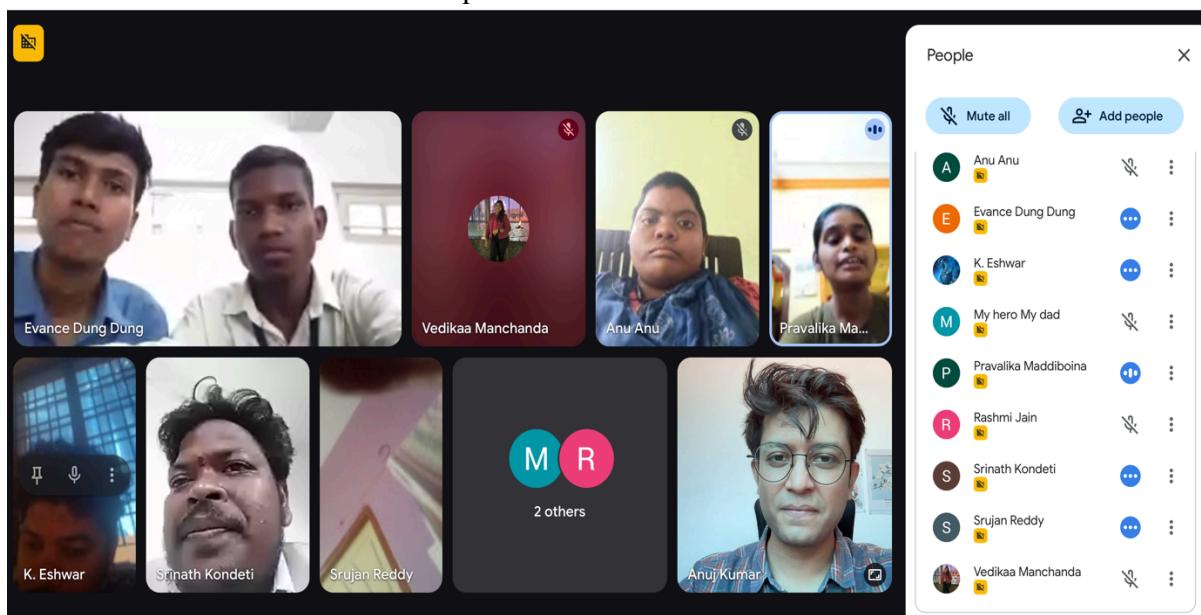

A total of 10 students participated in the quiz, representing the three collaborating institutions. The quiz saw enthusiastic participation and lively engagement, with students demonstrating both preparation and keen interest in the theme.

The event was hosted by Mr. Anuj Kumar and was supervised and coordinated by Dr. M. Zubeer Ahmed, both faculty members of Janki Devi Memorial College. At the institutional level, Ms. Keerthi from Devnar Junior Degree College and Mr. Shri Siripuram Riusuhikesh from Mahatma Gandhi Government College coordinated the event in their respective colleges, ensuring smooth participation and engagement from their students.

The winners of the quiz are as follows:

- First Prize (₹2000): K. Eshwar and Srujan from Devnar Junior and Degree College
- Second Prize (₹1500): Evance and Arman from Mahatma Gandhi Government College.
- Third Prize (₹1000): Anusha and Pravalika from Devnar Junior and Degree College

The event concluded with a vote of thanks and expressions of appreciation for the participants, organisers, and collaborating institutions. The quiz not only tested knowledge but also fostered a sense of cultural pride and inter-institutional camaraderie.

Pratibha: Foundation Classes (Competitive Exams) 2024-25: Completion Report

Pratibha: Foundation Classes for Competitive Exams under the aegis of Center for Career Counseling and Career Opportunity and the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi has successfully completed its eighth batch under the convenorship of Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed and Dr. Kush Kumar Gayasen and three members; Mr. Ahirrao Dinesh Bharat, Ms. Chanpreet Kaur, and Dr. Raju Keshari. Students, who aim to clear the various competitive exams conducted by UPSC, State Public Service Commission, National Testing Agency (NTA) etc. opted for these classes. The primary objective of these foundation classes was to provide the basic knowledge about important topics from examination point of view, and orient the students to explore further on their own. The topics for lectures were selected keeping in mind the General Studies, Political Science and International Relations components of various competitive exams.

The classes were open for all bonafide students (female&male) and ex-students of the University of Delhi. The classes commenced on 20th September 2024, with a total of 46 students registering. Of these, 14 students were from Devnar Junior and Degree College for the Blind, and 5 students were from Mahatma Gandhi Government College, Mayabunder, under the Vidya Vistaar Scheme of the University of Delhi. Admission was granted to all 19 of these students free of cost. Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed, the Nodal Officer from Janki Devi Memorial College for the Vidya Vistaar Scheme of the University of Delhi, has led the collaboration between the three colleges under the scheme.

The course was divided into 74 modules covering the broad areas of History, Economics, Political Science, International Relations, Foreign Policy, Sociology, English, Mathematics, Geography, Science & Technology, Current Affairs, Essay writing and components of Personality test. The classes were taken by the successful candidates in the Civil Services exam, faculties from various departments of the college and experts from outside. One module of two hours was discussed on every Friday and Saturday and Sunday. All the lectures were delivered in online mode.

Report: Youth Drive for Safety

The Philosophy Department of Janki Devi Memorial College (JDMC), in collaboration with TRAX NGO, conducted a Youth Drive for Safety initiative focusing on road safety awareness. Key events included a workshop on road safety management, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) signing, and an orientation program. Activities such as a helmet survey and distribution drive, basic life support (BLS) and CPR sessions, a poster-making competition, a road safety audit, and first aid kit distribution were conducted. These efforts aimed to educate individuals on responsible road behavior, emergency response, and legal aspects under the Good Samaritan Law. Through these activities, we also generated a reach of around 1500 youth.

21. Project Anupam

Name of the event:	Candle Making Workshop
Name of the organizer:	Incubation Program
Type of event:	Intra-college
Objectives of the event:	Our aim in organizing the workshop, in collaboration with Ekang, was to foster creativity and self-reliance through the art of candle making. The workshop provided a platform for participants to learn practical skills while acquiring profound knowledge about creative entrepreneurship.

Brief Report

The Incubation Program of Janki Devi Memorial College, organized a Candle Making Workshop on 5th April between 12:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. in the auditorium. It was conducted with great success among 14 eager participants. The workshop began with an introduction to Ekang and the incubation program. The team members of Ekang then introduced themselves and gave insights into their innovative venture.

The team of Ekang gave them a step-by-step demonstration of the jar cleaning, wick fixing, melting the wax, adding the fragrance and color, and pouring the wax. Participants were given wristbands and introduced to candle-making materials.

The procedure was thoroughly explained to small groups so that each step was clear. All participated actively in the process, selecting the preferred scents and creatively decorating their candles with different accessories. The activity was interactive, and participants asked questions and participated in the hands-on process.

We observed this activity as a platform for budding artists to express their creativity. Moving forward, we look forward to showcasing such work under Anupam Haat as part of the Program's Skill Enhancement Training initiative.

Feedback

Participants reported that they were truly pleased to be attending the workshop. They enjoyed the experience as fun, interactive, and relaxing. Many enjoyed learning something new and enjoyed being able to let their creativity shine through candle making. The interactive format

Name of the event	Exhibition Stall
Venue	Janki Devi Memorial College
Type of event	Exhibition
Objective of the event	To foster academic collaboration and knowledge sharing between Janki Devi Memorial College and US institutions, promoting mutual understanding, and exploring opportunities for joint research projects, faculty exchanges, and student mobility programs, thereby enhancing the global exposure and competitiveness of our students and faculty.

Brief Report :-

The Incubation Program at Janki Devi Memorial College, exhibited its diverse range of handmade products near Janki Devi Vocational Centre, during the visit of a team of fifteen delegates from the United States-India Educational Foundation (USIEF). The event featured an exhibition of innovative products made by our creators, highlighting their creativity and talent.

Our representatives Chinmayee Panda (President) and Tanisha Goswami (Media Head) presented a two-minute video, highlighting our society's achievements and initiatives. The presentation was followed by a dialogue exchange between the delegates and our representatives. A professor from the University of Arizona expressed interest in collaborating with our project for their retail management course. This potential partnership could provide opportunities for students from both universities to engage in academic exchanges and collaborative projects. As a token of appreciation, we gifted the delegates one of our handmade items, which they happily accepted.

Feedback

The delegates appreciated the opportunity to engage with our students and faculty. They acknowledged the potential for future collaboration and expressed enthusiasm for exploring new avenues for academic exchange. Our representatives interacted with the students and faculty members, and received positive feedback. Our stall was a resounding success, paving the way for future collaboration and knowledge sharing between our institutions.

Brief Report :-

Project Anupam, under the Incubation Program at Janki Devi Memorial College, showcased its diverse range of handmade products at an exhibition held at VIPS Tech Campus on 4th March 2025. The event, organized by the Entrepreneurship Development Cell of VIPS, took place from 9:30 AM to 4:00 PM and attracted a footfall of approximately 300 visitors, drawing an enthusiastic and engaged audience. Our team featured seven talented creators, each contributing unique and handcrafted items, including candles, crochet pieces, tote bags, bracelets, games, and cookies. Visitors were highly impressed by the quality, craftsmanship, and variety of products on display.

The concept of providing students a platform to transform their passion into small businesses was particularly well-received, with attendees appreciating the entrepreneurial spirit it fosters. Beyond showcasing our creations, the event also provided an excellent opportunity for meaningful interactions. Our team actively engaged with visitors, sharing insights into the creative processes behind the products. The positive response from the audience further reinforced the value of such initiatives in promoting creativity and entrepreneurship among students.

The recognition and appreciation received at the event served as a motivation for our team to continue expanding and refining our offerings. Overall, the event was a resounding success, increasing Project Anupam's visibility, strengthening its mission of empowering student entrepreneurs, and opening doors to new opportunities for growth and collaboration.

Feedback :-

Visitors highly appreciated Project Anupam for its unique concept and its role in supporting small creators by bridging the gap between them and potential customers. Many attendees recognized the initiative's impact in enabling students to turn their hobbies into small businesses, which they found both inspiring and full of potential. They were particularly impressed by the quality and variety of handmade products. Overall, the feedback was

Brief Report

The Incubation Program of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, organized a workshop on Artificial Intelligence & Automation in Digital Marketing on 15 February 2025 between 11:00 AM and 1:30 PM in the Seminar Room. There were about a 100 students present, who were interested in learning about how AI is changing the behavior of businesses towards customers and marketing optimization.

The session started with an engaging discussion on how AI has transformed traditional customer service jobs, with 80% of past call center roles now replaced by AI-powered chatbots and virtual assistants. Panelists spoke about voice marketing, explaining how AI-driven voice assistants are becoming an essential part of customer interaction. They also introduced students to Instagram AI influencers, who are now shaping buying decisions through highly personalized content recommendations.

The panelists introduced a variety of AI-powered tools that are making marketing smarter and more effective:

- Google Trends – A tool that helps businesses identify trending topics and headlines to create content that resonates with their audience.
- Keyword Comparison & Location-Based Search – Essential for businesses targeting specific markets, ensuring their marketing reaches the right people at the right time.
- Instant Data Scraper – Helps businesses gather and analyze search trends, such as finding

- Chatbots for Business Growth – AI-powered chatbots that automate customer interactions, improving service and increasing efficiency.
- LinkedIn Optimization – AI tools that help individuals enhance their professional presence and expand networking opportunities in the job market.

The workshop was highly interactive, encouraging students to ask questions and engage in meaningful discussions. Some of the key topics that came up included the future of AI in digital marketing, the impact of automation on jobs, and how students can prepare for AI-driven careers. The panelists shared real-world case studies to help students understand how AI is already transforming businesses and what they can do to stay relevant in the industry.

Feedback

The feedback on the workshop was extremely positive. Students enjoyed the hands-on approach and practical insights, as they were able to try out actual AI tools rather than theoretical ones. Faculty members also recognized the significance of AI education, as they understood how crucial it is for students to remain competitive in an AI-oriented job market. Most of the participants showed interest in learning more about career opportunities based on AI and how they can begin incorporating these tools into their own practice.

Name of the event:	Anupam Haat at Symphony'25
Name of the organizer:	Incubation Program
Type of event:	Inter-college
Objectives of the event:	Our aim is to focus on empowering new businesses with their creativity, making it easier for them to reach their respective audiences. Various art and craft items were displayed which encouraged creativity and self-sufficiency. To support our goal of grooming young changemakers, this initiative gave students the opportunity to take steps towards a more self-reliant entrepreneurial future.

Brief Report

Project Anupam, under the Incubation Program at Janki Devi Memorial College, showcased its creations at Symphony '25 from February 6th to 8th. Every day, beginning at 10 a.m., the stalls were set up on the dusty ground of the college. More than 1,500 visitors attended the three-day event. Bakery items, crochet products, resin art, handmade candles, face painting, games were showcased.. The main highlight of the stall was sugar free cookies, laphing and BYOP, The energetic atmosphere invigorated participants. They enthusiastically enjoyed shopping each day. A survey was also conducted in which people filled their concerns and expectations regarding the stall.

Day 1: More than 300 visitors attended the grand opening of Anupam Haat, delighting in the stall brimming with baked goods, sophisticatedly crocheted items, exquisite resin art, handcrafted candles and energetic face painting. The energetic energy created a solid foundation for the event and enthusiastic shopper participation consistently drew a large crowd all day.

Day 2: Visitor numbers showed a large increase, exceeding 1,000 in total. Fourteen creators showcased their products and this precise increase provided greater offerings of handmade crafts, food and fun activities—including face painting and games—were available. The energetic crowd and engaging stalls created a dynamic and busy marketplace and this marketplace thrived because of them.

Day 3: The last day, with close to two hundred visitors, offered a tranquil shopping experience. Bakery items, resin art, games and crochet products, offered at the stalls, kept the event charming. Anupam Haat concluded triumphantly, leaving a deeply meaningful effect on the entire campus. A major highlight of the day was the interview done by a famous YouTuber named Shreedhar Rathee of the Incubation Program members and were asked about Project Anupam & Incubation Program.

Feedback

The Anupam Haat was a huge hit with customers and faculty alike. Visitors enjoyed the many diverse, affordably priced, handmade and artistic products. The creativity and effort in the stall impressed many, making Anupam Haat engaging and enjoyable. The faculty also acknowledged the organizing team's exceptionally large dedication to the event's complete success.

Customers found the event well-organized and the products affordable. Elaborate face painting along with many games were engaging interactive elements. These considerably improved the energetic atmosphere, which they thoroughly enjoyed. Many teachers purchased different products and enjoyed the stall. The event was successful as well as memorable for attendees.

Brief Report

The National Youth Day celebration, organized by Janki Devi Memorial College in the Committee Room on January 9th, was a vibrant and inspiring event. The event began with an engaging speech by the Principal Swati Pal, creating an atmosphere of enthusiasm and anticipation. The highlight was the presence of the Chief Guest, Col. (Dr.) Divakaran Padam Kumar Pillay, who captivated the audience with stories from his astonished army career and he also gave a speech on "Youth Power for Nation Building". He encouraged students to embrace hard work, be punctual, and cultivate a strong sense of responsibility, leaving a memorable impact on everyone in attendance.

Organized by the Student Union, the event also provided a platform to acknowledge the significant contributions of individuals within the institution. Faculty member Mr. Deepak Rawat, the Project Coordinator of Project Anupam, was recognized for his commitment, along with the President, Chinmayee Panda, and the Project Head, Nisha Princy Agarwal,

Students involved in Project Anupam carried out research to understand how the program's strategies, objectives, and events like stalls and seminars were helping the project succeed. Their research aimed to find out if these elements were meeting the project's goals and how they could be improved.

The research focused on the strategies used by Project Anupam to connect creators with customers. Students looked at how effective the project was in promoting handmade products through stalls and seminars, and how these strategies helped creators grow their businesses.

Students & faculty were awarded with certificates of appreciation for their research.

The research results have helped improve the project's approach, ensuring that it continues to meet its goal of supporting creators and promoting entrepreneurship.

Type of the Event	Intra-College

Brief Report

The workshop for Creator Nursery and Creator Gallery was held on 16th November at 5pm on Google Meet .

The workshop began with Chinmayee Panda, President of Incubation Program, emphasising the importance of empowering creators through resources, strategies, and guidance to elevate their ideas to the next level. This was followed by Devshi, Content and Research team Head Incubation Program, presenting us on the topic networking strategies highlighting key strategies and common mistakes.

Then we had an interesting insightful presentation by Mishthee on Art of Right Pricing , highlighting consistent research and strategy are key to effective pricing. This was followed by a presentation on how to sell through Instagram DMs by Adhya. Then we had an interesting presentation by Aarchi on soap-making business. This was followed by a presentation by Disha highlighting the art of macrame creation.

The PR and Sales team also organised an engaging quiz. The use of a live quiz platform allowed everyone to participate in real-time, creating a lively atmosphere as answers were updated instantly after each question.

The workshop was concluded by Dr. Deepak Rawat Teacher Coordinator Project Anupam by encouraging students to be a part of this program as it is beneficial for them.

Project Head, Princy Agrawal, concluded the session by expressing her sincere gratitude to the team for their participation and engagement. She also emphasised her eagerness to organise more such events in the future and encouraged everyone to reach out for any assistance or support.

Feedback

Participants were satisfied with the event and valued the content, but several mentioned that, if given a choice, they would have preferred an in-person format. They noted that in-person events provide a more immersive experience, better engagement opportunities, and more effective networking.

INTRODUCTION

Soap making offer a practical and creative outlet for those who enjoy working with their hands. The process involves combining oils, fats, and a base (often lye) to produce soap, a substance used for cleaning and hygiene. This age-old technique, known as saponification, results in a chemical reaction that transforms oils and fats into soap and glycerin.

In recent years, handmade soaps have gained popularity due to their customisable nature, skin-friendly properties and the ability to incorporate natural ingredients like essential oils, herbs, and botanicals. Soap making allows artisans to explore endless varieties of textures, colors, and fragrances.

Soap making combines both creativity and functionality with the added benefit of producing something useful for everyday life.

WHAT IS MACRAME?!

Macrame is a type of textile art created through knotting rather than traditional weaving or knitting. Using just a few basic knots, artists can produce a wide variety of intricate and decorative pieces that are both functional and visually appealing. Unlike other crafts, macrame doesn't require a loom or specialized tools, making it accessible and beginner-friendly. It is a part of the Bohemian style. Recently, macrame has seen a resurgence as people embrace natural and handmade decor. It is now popular in home decor, jewelry, and accessories.

Name of the event:	Anupam Haat at Jyotsana'24
Name of the organizer:	Incubation Program
Type of event:	Inter-college
Objectives of the event:	Our stall aimed to empower budding entrepreneurs, and connect them with their target market. We showcased an array of unique products, from handmade diyas to jewelry and accessories. Aligning with our societal vision, we created an ideal platform for creators to display their talents. Our initiative focused on nurturing youth as changemakers for a self-reliant India, one entrepreneurial step at a time.

Brief Report

Project Anupam, under the Incubation Program at Janki Devi Memorial College, showcased its creations at the vibrant Diwali Mela “JYOTSANA’24” held at Janki Devi Memorial College on October 25th. It turned out to be a huge success as over 500+ students, staff, and other visitors visited the stall. Products of 12 creators were showcased at our stall near the auditorium, and the result was putting out the creativity and skill of the creators with their handmade products like crochet flowers, ribbon flowers, bracelets, necklaces, keychains, chocolates, and etc.

Audience engagement was strong, with many faculty members purchasing items, demonstrating the quality and appeal of the goods.

Our stall stole the show at the mega event, drawing in crowds of visitors and JDMC students. Its unique variety of attractions made it impossible for anyone to leave without taking a piece of Anupam home. As the day drew to a close, the team proudly marked a sale of ₹33,435.

Feedback from Creators:

With the event’s success, creators eagerly anticipate future showcases, and are grateful for the organizers' support in amplifying their talents and driving sales. Creators felt an overwhelming sense of pride showcasing their work, and enjoyed the fact that it engaged the crowd. They eagerly welcomed more opportunities to display their creations and appreciated

Brief Report

The Incubation Program of Janki Devi Memorial College organised its Orientation Program under the Aegis of IQAC. The Orientation took place on 9th September at 12 noon in Room no.40. Over 20+ students exhibited a keen interest in knowing about our structure and goals.

Our main goals for the day were to give participants a clear picture of what to expect, introduce them to resources and people who will support them, and lay out the roles and responsibilities. We wanted to ensure everyone felt well prepared and excited about the opportunity ahead.

The session started with a warm welcome from Chinmayee Panda, President of the Incubation Program, who shared an overview of our society's mission and goals. This was followed by a detailed explanation of how the program is structured and what participants can anticipate.

A significant part of Orientation was dedicated to Introducing Project Anupam. Nisha Princy Agarwal, Project Head took the opportunity to present our key initiative Project Anupam. She provided a comprehensive overview of Project Anupam works, detailing its objectives and vision.

The Heads of each team were introduced. Each team head provided insights into the roles and responsibilities of the new members they will be working with. We also introduced our convenors and teacher coordinators, highlighting how they will be involved and available to support each member.

We wrapped up with a Q&A session where participants could ask any lingering questions and get the answers they needed. The day ended with a networking session, allowing participants to connect informally with the heads.

Objectives of the Event	Our primary goal in organizing the stall was to support emerging entrepreneurs and connect them with their target audience. We featured a diverse range of products, from crochet, bookmarks to jewelry and accessories. By putting up a stall, we aimed to give freshers a clear understanding of our society's vision and mission. Our initiative was designed to empower young creators to become change-makers and contribute to a self-reliant India.

Brief Report

Project Anupam under the Incubation Program of Janki Devi Memorial College

achieved yet another milestone by dedication, determination and hard work by setting up a magnificent stall for Deeksharambh - Orientation'24. Throughout the one day orientation the stall was managed by the Core team. With the project we showcased handmade crafts and items presenting a wide range of spectacular products such as handmade crochets, resin arts, bookmarks and handmade jewellery.

Our booth made a striking impression at orientation. With our stall set up in the auditorium, we drew the attention of students and teachers. The versatility of our booth ensured that everyone left with a souvenir from Anupam. We experienced a footfall of 350-400 people, and our team's collaborative effort resulted in sales of ₹7,170.

Feedback

The students and the teachers were deeply impressed by the agility of members and the quality of the items. They could not restrain themselves from reviewing the items and praising the intricacies of the products in their verbal feedback. The personalisation of the products by the creators won the hearts of many buyers.

The team worked with undying passion and at the end of the day commended each other for their support.

The happy faces of content, the twinkling eyes full of excitement encourage us to take our endeavour forward and we ensure our ardent customers and creators that we will be back with engagements in future.

Date: 23rd September 2024

Place: Bal Bharati Public School

Teacher Conveners: Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed (Director)

Number of Participants: 60

As part of the Bystander Assistance for Social Inclusion initiative under the Centre for Study of Disability Inclusion (CSDI), a session was conducted at Bal Bharati Public School to equip students with the basics of disability inclusion and communication.

The session began with a Bystander Assistance Program (BAP) led by Apoorva Roy, Content Head at CSDI. It provided a brief yet insightful introduction to appropriate ways of interacting with persons with disabilities (PwDs). Participants were guided on respectful communication, the importance of accessibility, and simple yet effective ways to offer assistance in everyday situations. The session emphasized the role of bystanders in fostering an inclusive environment by being aware, empathetic, and proactive.

Following this, a Sign Language Demonstration was conducted by Khushi, General Secretary of CSDI, and Apoorva Roy, Content Head at CSDI. The session introduced participants to Indian Sign Language (ISL), covering basic greetings, common phrases, and key gestures to facilitate communication with the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community. To make the session interactive, students were encouraged to spell their names using the ISL alphabet, allowing them to engage directly with the language.

The session successfully familiarized participants with both the significance of inclusive social behavior and the fundamentals of ISL, reinforcing the importance of accessibility in everyday interactions.

Date: 27th August 2024

Place: Seminar Room, Janki Devi Memorial College

Teacher Conveners: Dr Md. Zubeer Ahmed (Director)

Ms Pouriangularthani

Number of Participants: 55

The event titled "Bystander Assistance for Social Inclusion" was held at Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi, under the aegis of the IQAC. Organized by the Centre for Study of Disability Inclusion in collaboration with the St Thomas Senior Secondary School, the event was started by Dr. Zubeer Ahmed the Director of the Centre. He also served as a resource person for the event. The focus was on supporting persons with visual impairment, those who are hard of hearing, and those with locomotor disabilities. The session emphasized the correct social protocols and terminology to be used when interacting with persons with disabilities (PWDs), aiming to foster a respectful and inclusive environment.

Key points discussed included Bystander assistance involves everyday people offering help to others, particularly those who may face challenges due to disabilities. This assistance can take many forms, such as helping someone navigate a physical space, offering support during emergencies, or advocating for accessibility improvements. When bystanders are proactive, they help create environments where disabled persons feel safe, respected, and an included safer environment. A demonstration of Indian Sign Language was done by Khushi, the General Secretary at Student Body Saksham and Apoorva Roy, the Content Head at Student Body Saksham.

In summary, the event highlighted the vital role of bystanders in advocating for accessible public spaces and promoting inclusivity. It encouraged participants to become active bystanders who not only assist but also educate others about the importance of social inclusion for persons

Following the success of the previous session, a second installment of the event "Bystander Assistance for Social Inclusion" was organized at St Thomas Senior Secondary School under the aegis of IQAC. The session was once again conducted by Dr. Md. Zubeer Ahmed, Director of the Centre for Study of Disability Inclusion, in collaboration with St. Thomas Senior Secondary School. The session focused on building awareness and equipping participants with practical knowledge on supporting persons with disabilities (PwDs), particularly those with visual impairments, hearing impairments, and locomotor disabilities.

The event covered key aspects of inclusive bystander assistance, emphasizing the importance of using appropriate social protocols and respectful terminology when interacting with PwDs. Participants were guided on how to offer assistance in public spaces, ensure accessibility, and challenge societal biases that hinder inclusion. Dr. Ahmed stressed the role of bystanders in fostering dignity, independence, and social integration for PwDs through small yet impactful actions.

A significant highlight of the event was the interactive demonstration of Indian Sign Language (ISL) conducted by Khushi, General Secretary of the Student Body Saksham, and Apoorva Roy, Content Head of Student Body Saksham. The demonstration provided participants with basic ISL phrases to facilitate better communication with the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community.

when interacting with persons with disabilities (PwDs), aiming to foster a respectful and inclusive environment.

The event began with a brief introduction of Dr. Zubeer Ahmed, Dr. Raju Kesari and Ms. Pauri. Later Dr. Zubeer Ahmed started with the lecture. Key points discussed included Bystander assistance involving everyday people offering help to others, particularly those who may face challenges due to disabilities. This assistance can take many forms, such as helping someone navigate a physical space, offering support during emergencies, or advocating for accessibility improvements. When bystanders are proactive, they help create environments where disabled persons feel safe, respected, and an included safer environment. A small demonstration of sign language was done by Khushi, the general secretary at student body Saksham and Apoorva Roy, the Content Head at student body Saksham. The event ended with a Thank You note by the principal of St Thomas Senior Secondary School. Further Dr. Zubeer Ahmed, Dr. Raju Keshari and Ms. Pouriangthanliu were presented with paintings made by students of St Thomas Senior Secondary School as a token of gratitude.

In summary, the event highlighted the vital role of bystanders in advocating for accessible public spaces and promoting inclusivity. It encouraged participants to become active bystanders who not only assist but also educate others about the importance of social inclusion for persons.

ORGANIZING TEAM

Hearing impairment refers to the inability of an individual to hear sounds adequately. This may be due to improper development, damage or disease to any part of the hearing mechanism. There are two types of hearing loss: Congenital hearing loss (present at birth) and Acquired hearing loss (appear after birth). Genetic factors, maternal rubella, premature birth are some of the causes of congenital hearing loss. Acquired hearing loss are caused by meningitis, otitis media, meniere's disease, and noise-induced hearing loss.

There are certain developmental milestones that a healthy infant achieves at a particular age, but hearing loss can hinder this progress, making certain signs noticeable early on. There can also be temporary hearing loss due to middle ear infection, glue ear, etc., but it can be harmful for a child's speech and language development during the formative years. Therefore, it should be diagnosed early and should be treated.

Hearing impairment in young children can have profound consequences on their speech, language development, social development, emotional, and cognitive development. Early identification through hearing screening is essential for timely intervention, preventing potential developmental delays and ensuring better outcomes for affected children. However, many parents and caregivers may not be fully aware of the symptoms of hearing loss or the importance of early screening.

KEY WORDS

To make the students aware of the human dimension of children with special needs by participating in the initiatives.

To develop community interaction skills among our students and extend their learning beyond the classroom.

To develop research skills among students, including data collection, analysis, and report writing.

To raise awareness among the parents and caregivers about the signs of hearing impairment, and importance of early detection.

To refer the cases (if any) to our project advisor.

The data has been collected through personalized interview methodology (standardized check list provided by the project advisor).

The study aims to collect and analyze responses of about 1,000 to 1,500 parents of young children.

Participation was voluntary (consent was taken from participants prior to taking interviews), and the anonymity and confidentiality of all the participants has been maintained.

We sensitized our third-year students on the same, before the initiation of data collection.

Cases will be referred to the doctor if the need arises.

SCOPE AND METHODOLOGY

Sensitized our students about hearing impairment and provided them opportunities to have enhanced knowledge and hands-on experience of screening to early intervention.

Awareness among parents regarding importance of early hearing screening for children.

Presentation of findings and Publication at relevant Platforms.

33. DRISHTI IAS

Brief Report:

The seminar commenced at around 12 PM on October 8, 2024 with Devanshi, Joint Secretary of the Economics Department, introducing the guest speaker – Mr. Prashant Sharma and welcoming him along with the teachers-in-charge. Minal Bansal, President of the Economics Department then felicitated the speaker. The seminar began with an interesting question "Skills or money?" which was answered by Tanisha and Riya from the audience, concluding that skills are more important than money, as they make one valuable. The law of diminishing intent was also discussed. The speaker explained the power of patience using the bamboo's growth as an example. In another question about an elephant in chains, Tanvi and Payal highlighted how people often don't realize their own capabilities, emphasizing the need for self-belief. Ayushi and Anvesha, were asked about qualities of a bureaucrat and CEO, respectively. Leadership, problem-solving, and communication skills were highlighted as key traits while answering these questions. The importance of keeping up with current events through newspapers, tips on civil service preparation alongside college, and the civil services examination process were discussed. The session ended with Manya Modi, Vice President of the Economics Department welcoming Minal for thanking the speaker by presenting him a letter of appreciation for his efforts, followed by a Vote of Thanks by the President, Minal Bansal
