Financial Awareness Camp

IQAC-JDMC in collaboration with Canara Bank organized a financial awareness camp on August 30, 2024, in the college library. The camp was intended for both faculty and non-teaching staff.

The principal, Prof. Swati Pal, inaugurated the camp by emphasizing the significance of financial awareness. She highlighted the importance of understanding personal finance for making informed decisions about savings, investments, and overall financial well-being.

Ms. Aradhna Trivedi, DGM, and Mr. Y. I. Reddy, AGM, along with their team, conducted the main session. They provided valuable insights into various financial saving and investing options. The audience actively engaged with the presenters, asking questions and seeking clarification on different financial concepts.

The financial awareness camp was well-received by the participants. The audience appreciated the informative session and expressed their gratitude to the IQAC Coordinator, JDMC, Prof. Payal Nagpal, for the opportunity to enhance their financial knowledge.

The poster is for a 'Financial Awareness Camp for Faculty' organized by Janki Devi Memorial College (University of Delhi) in collaboration with JDMC-IQAC and Canara Bank. It features a blue and green background with a starburst shape containing the event details. Logos for the college and NAAC accreditation are visible in the top corners.

Talk on Prevention of Sexual Harassment (PoSH) Act

The Internal Complaints Committee (ICC), JDMC, in collaboration with IQAC-JDMC, organized a talk on the Prevention of Sexual Harassment (PoSH) Act on April 11, 2025, for the teaching and non-teaching staff of the college.

Ms. Aggarwal discussed the Bhanwari Devi case, a watershed moment that brought the issue of sexual harassment to the forefront and highlighted the need for a legal framework to protect women at the workplace. The Vishaka Guidelines, laid down by the Supreme Court, provided this framework until the enactment of the POSH Act in 2013.

Ms. Aggarwal explained that the POSH Act provides a comprehensive mechanism for the prevention, prohibition, and redressal of sexual harassment at the workplace, and places specific duties on employers to ensure a safe working environment for women.

Faculty Pedagogy Workshop (Sociology)

The Department of Sociology organised a Pedagogy Workshop for its faculty members on 12 August 2024 in the Committee Room.

The resource person for the first session was Mr. Ravindra Karnena, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Lady Shri Ram College for Women, for the paper 'Sociology of the Body'. The expert started by highlighting the significance of the way in which the paper needs to be seen. As this is the first time colleges are offering this paper, the focus and discussion should begin with why the 'body' is so significant, and when in Sociology the need to understand the 'body' emerged.

The session on the pedagogy for Sociological Thinkers-II (III Year/VI Semester) was conducted by Dr. Urna Dutta Sarkar, Associate Professor, Kamla Nehru College. Dr. Sarkar felt that it was challenging to prepare students to decode dense and abstract theoretical texts authored by the sociological thinkers and suggested that we teach theory like a form of cartography i.e. by visuospatial representations of dense written works.

The session on the paper Sociology and Social Policy was conducted by Dr. Saswati Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Lady Sri Ram College for Women. The session began with Dr. Bhattacharya pointing out that a good way to introduce the course is to start by orienting the students with its relevance. Here the interdisciplinary nature, application orientation and employment prospects related to the course could be highlighted.

Faculty Pedagogy Workshop (Mathematics)

The Department of Mathematics at JDMC successfully conducted a pedagogy session on March 5, 2025, focusing on enhancing teaching methodologies and exploring modern pedagogical approaches in Research Methodology.

Dr. Bhardwaj started the session by posing a thought-provoking question: "What is research?" She discussed real-life examples to illustrate the significance of identifying problems systematically and finding effective solutions through research. She emphasized how research methodology fosters critical thinking, analytical reasoning, and problem-solving skills, which are essential for both faculty and students.

She further explored how pedagogical strategies can be enhanced to effectively teach research methodology (RM) to faculty members. By integrating mathematical reasoning, structured frameworks, and inquiry-based learning, educators can improve their teaching approaches and better equip students with data-driven decision-making skills. She also highlighted the role of interactive learning, case studies, and technology-driven tools in making RM pedagogy more engaging and impactful for faculty development.

Faculty Pedagogy Workshop (Political Science)

The pedagogy talk was focused on comparative politics as a discipline. Prof. Ujjawal Kumar Singh elaborated on how the trajectory of discipline has changed over time, from understanding constitutions of different countries to analysing the domestic changes that led to substantial reforms like Perestroika in erstwhile USSR. He also elaborated on the availability of reading texts and similarity in the literature across countries and also the shortcomings of literature on studying China. The structural aspect of this paper has evolved from Eurocentrism to categorically looking at a comparative study among nations. However, certain topics like political culture, modernisation and development have been constant area of study.

The study needs to evolve by bringing in more localised study of domestic aspects in comparative studies. He also highlighted the classic works on studying comparative politics. It was an enriching session for faculties.

Faculty Pedagogy Workshop (Sociology)

A workshop on the pedagogy of Sociology of Media was organized as part of the ongoing pedagogy series to enhance teaching strategies and methods of student assessment. The session aimed to provide educators with tools and insights to engage students more effectively, focusing on the syllabus, teaching methods, and assessment frameworks. Ravindra Karnena, the resource person, structured the session around three key units of the syllabus and emphasized the importance of integrating historical perspectives, critical theories, and emerging trends in media studies.

The workshop opened with a discussion on the teaching strategies for Sociology of Media. Traditional lectures were identified as foundational, but seminars and student presentations based on essential readings and teacher-prescribed articles were recommended as tools for assessing students' understanding. This approach aimed to encourage critical engagement and thorough reading habits among students.

Mr. Karnena highlighted the importance of providing a historical background to the emergence of perspectives in media sociology, focusing on the historiography of communication. He suggested The Media and Modernity: A Social Theory by J.B. Thompson as an essential reading to offer a comprehensive understanding of media perspectives.
