The Internal Quality Assurance Cell of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi organised an Online Mentoring Session for students of 1st to 4th year on 16 February 2026 from 5:00 PM to 6:00 PM through Zoom platform.

The session was conducted by Prof. Swati Pal, Principal, Janki Devi Memorial College, who served as the resource person for the session. The programme aimed to familiarise students with institutional policies, academic expectations, student opportunities, and support systems available in the college, while also guiding them towards holistic personal and professional development.

During her address, Prof. Pal highlighted the importance of maintaining academic discipline, particularly emphasising the mandatory attendance requirement, internal assessment structure, and adherence to university and college rules and regulations. She sensitised students about maintaining decorum within the campus, responsible use of institutional facilities, and respectful communication with faculty, staff, and peers.

The session also focused on the diverse opportunities available for student growth. Students were encouraged to actively participate in various college societies, research initiatives, add-on and vocational courses, foreign language programmes, and career development activities. Prof. Pal further informed students about internship opportunities, institutional mentoring support, counselling facilities, remedial classes, sports infrastructure, and other student welfare provisions.

The Principal also apprised students about the grievance redressal mechanisms, student representation channels, and encouraged them to take pride in their institution by actively contributing to academic and co-curricular activities. She emphasised that college life offers opportunities not only for academic learning but also for personality development, skill enhancement, and leadership building.

The session witnessed enthusiastic participation from students who gained valuable insights into academic planning, career development, and responsible student conduct. The programme concluded with a question and answer round session and lastly the vote of thanks extended to the Principal for her motivating and informative interaction with the students. The session was coordinated by Dr. Kush Kumar Gayasen, IQAC Coordinator.
