Reporting Matters, Action Taken Report and IQAC Deliberations

- AQAR submission status and NAAC compliance updates were presented along with ISO 21001:2018 and ISO 9001:2015 recertification (2025–26).
- Progress on NEP implementation, SDG integration, and streamlining of the 4th Year UG Programme and PwD support systems was reviewed.
- Strengthening of the research ecosystem through enhanced publications, collaborations, and academic initiatives was highlighted.
- Stakeholder feedback (2025–26) was discussed along with revised and simplified feedback mechanisms.
- Digital governance systems including Samarth ERP and Mobiquel Portal were reported for documentation and data management.
- Library development initiatives including DELNET access and establishment of the Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS) section were noted.
- International academic collaborations including Bhutan exchange programmes and BITS Pilani AI-based certificate course were highlighted.
- FDPs on inclusivity, ethics, wellbeing, and data protection were completed, along with strengthened mentoring systems.
- NEP-aligned internships and skill-based courses were discussed under academic enrichment programmes.
- Importance of timely documentation, audits, and compliance was reiterated for institutional quality enhancement.

Suggestions by Members

- Experiential learning through field-based academic visits (e.g., Parliament, biodiversity parks, heritage and ecological sites) is being implemented across departments and may be scaled up further.
- Formalisation of campus ambassador or social media representative systems with clear guidelines, roles, and regulations was suggested to strengthen institutional outreach.
- Identification of institutional best practices for 2025–26 was suggested, including IKS, research ecosystem development, NEP implementation, skill-based courses, and integration of AI in academics.
- Focus on select SDGs was recommended to build institutional identity, including initiatives such as a proposed Centre for Urban Development under ‘Sustainable Cities and Communities.’
- It was suggested that under SDGs should be impact-oriented and supported with measurable, quantifiable outcomes.
- Strengthening alumni engagement through structured, periodic (monthly) interactions and consultations was advised.

- Enhancement of institutional visibility through media outreach and structured communication strategies was suggested.
- FDPs on Artificial Intelligence for faculty, in collaboration with industry partners were proposed.
- Environmental sustainability initiatives, such as no-smoking campaigns, cancer awareness, e-waste management, water conservation, recycling, composting and MoUs with relevant agencies and schools, are already being undertaken and may be further expanded and strengthened. A formal policy document for website publication was also recommended.
- A plantation drive is proposed to be conducted outside the campus in collaboration with Avani and Upvan.
- Strict implementation and adherence to the Academic Calendar across departments and student societies was emphasized.

The Chairperson, Prof. Swati Pal, appreciated the valuable inputs of the members and emphasized the need for structured implementation of innovative, sustainable, and student-centric initiatives in alignment with the NAAC and NEP frameworks.

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks proposed by the IQAC Coordinator.
