

Face Painting Competition

Avani, the Environment Club, JDMC, University of Delhi organised an intra-college face painting competition on October 6, 2023 to celebrate the Wild Life Week. The event aimed to raise awareness about wildlife conservation through the creative medium of face art. Participants displayed exceptional artistic talent, transforming faces into captivating wildlife representations. The theme of Wildlife Week inspired students to research and incorporate intricate details into their designs. The competition not only showcased the artistic prowess of the students but also emphasized the significance of protecting the natural world. All the participants were awarded with cash prizes for displaying their artistic skills and talents for concern for protecting and conserving the wildlife. The face painting competition during Wildlife Week was a resounding success, fostering a sense of environmental responsibility among the college community and serving as a reminder of our shared duty to safeguard our planet's magnificent creatures.

Avani Celebrates the World Rain Forest Day: A Report

AVANI, the Environment Club of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi organised an online screening of the documentary, “A Dream of Trees” on the occasion of the World Rainforest Day under the aegis of Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav on June 22, 2023. The World Rainforest Day was founded in 2017 by the organisation, Rainforest Partnership and calls for a global movement to protect and restore standing rainforests for healthy climate and promoting biodiversity, culture, and livelihoods.

The screening session started with Ms. Meerangi, student member from Avani welcoming the participants and motivating them to engage in environment friendly activities. This was followed by Ms. Sneha, student member from Avani apprising the participants on rules to be followed during the screening of the documentary.

The documentary screening began at 4:00 pm with students’ members of Avani attending it. The documentary unfolded the tale of ecological restoration of degraded tropical rainforests in the Anamalai hills of the Western Ghats, India. It was an inspiring story of restoration and reviving the connections between plants and animals and between people and rainforests in a shared landscape. The participants watched the documentary with keen interest and found it extremely enriching.

The poster features a green background with a rainforest scene. At the top, there are logos for the 75th Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, G20 India 2023, and the college's ISO 9001:2015 certification. The text reads: Janki Devi Memorial College (University of Delhi) Under the Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav AVANI - The Environment Club celebrates WORLD RAINFOREST DAY.
