Report

On 24th September 2025, the North East Students' Group of Janki Devi Memorial College organised “Seraphim”, its monthly movie screening event. The programme began at 3:00 PM in Room No. 43A and brought together students and faculty for an afternoon of films that explored diverse cultural and social themes from different parts of India.

The screening opened with Borme (2022), an award-winning Tagin short film directed by Tapen Natam. The film traced how seemingly small actions can lead to larger consequences, while also offering a vivid portrayal of the heritage of Arunachal Pradesh, its traditions, and its breathtaking natural landscapes. Following this, the audience was shown Between the Silence (2018), a powerful film from Nagaland produced by the State Legal Services Authority. This narrative focused on the struggles of a married woman and her child in an abusive household, underlining the urgent need to break the silence around domestic violence. The final screening of the evening was Nasjal (The Pilgrimage) (2025), directed by Iftikhar Hussain. Set against the backdrop of Ladakh, this moving story followed a father’s pilgrimage with his son, beautifully capturing themes of parental love, sacrifice, devotion, and the enduring bond between a parent and child.

After the screenings, an engaging discussion unfolded among the students and teachers present. The dialogue created a space for meaningful reflection on the cultural and emotional depth of the films, while also drawing attention to the social issues they highlighted. Viewers shared thoughtful feedback, and the exchange of perspectives made the session both enriching and memorable.

Report

The NESG Orientation Day was held on the 3rd of September from 3:00 PM onwards in room number 43 A. The programme began with an introduction to the society, its objectives, and its activities over the past years. The core members shared the significance of the North East Students' Group in creating cultural awareness, building solidarity, and fostering a safe and vibrant environment for students from diverse backgrounds.

The session provided the freshers with an overview of the opportunities within the society and highlighted the importance of active participation in its initiatives. The event concluded with the freshers introducing themselves, which encouraged interaction and laid the foundation for stronger bonds among members.

Overall, the orientation was successful in setting a positive tone, establishing a welcoming atmosphere, and motivating the students to actively engage in NESG's activities throughout the academic session.

Report

The North East Students' Group at Janki Devi Memorial College set up a help desk near the JDMC Triangle to support newly admitted students in settling into college life. From academics and hostel facilities to understanding the curriculum, the desk aimed to guide students through it all. More than just providing information, the initiative was also about building a sense of community, helping students from the North East feel at home in a new city and connect with others on campus. The help desk was available from August 4th to August 10th, 2025 between 11:00 AM and 3:00 PM.
