

Report on Open House Session On “Understanding NEP: Step by Step”

March 2nd, 2023

An open house session was organised on the topic “Understanding NEP: Step by Step” by National Education Policy Implementation Committee on March 2nd, 2023 at 7PM on Google Meet for the faculty members. The session was chaired by Professor Payal Nagpal from the English department. The prime objective of the session was to understand the structure of the New Education Policy implemented in the University of Delhi in the academic session 2022-23.

The session was highly informative and interactive and began with discussion on the basic structure of the NEP followed by its proposed implementation procedure. Professor Nagpal explained how the policy is fully student centric in its approach and is expected to provide numerous options to students to explore their areas of interest. Some of the queries explained in the session were around the credits for different courses for each semester, various exit and entry options for the students, Skill enhancement and Value Added Courses along with Skill development centres and cluster colleges. The session was highly informative and helped the faculty members in understanding the basic structure of the policy in a very lucid manner.
